Japan Called On to Discuss Settlement In China Warning Given By League of Possible International Acts

Assembly Asks Nippon Agree Nine-Power Treaty Signatories End War Direct Aid To Chinese Studied

GENEVA (AP) — The League of Nations Assembly today warned Japan of the possibility of international action unless she agrees to a peaceful nine-power settlement of the China conflict.

The Assembly unanimously approved resolutions containing the warning. Poland and Siam abstained from voting, but their attitude did not prevent the unanimity because states which abstain in voting are considered absent under Geneva practices.

Applause broke over the Assembly hall as the Agha Khan, Assembly president, announced adoption of the resolutions which condemn Japan for invasion of China and provide for the conference of the nine signatories of the pact guaranteeing the territorial integrity of China.

The League president was empowered to take necessary action for convoking the Nine-Power Treaty signatories.

The strong League stand expressed moral support of China and recommended that members would refrain from taking any action that might weaken China's power of resistance.

A closing admonition was given League members to consider giving direct aid to the beleaguered Chinese.

READY FOR ACTION

The Assembly adjourned, but remained subject to call whenever the international situation warrants, a possibility many delegates deemed certain to deal with both the Spanish and Far Eastern crisis.

U.S. TO SHARE IN CONFERENCE

Indicated Washington Will Join Other Powers in Seeking Orient Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — High sources said today United States participation in a nine-power conference to consider the Far Eastern conflict virtually was assured by President Roosevelt's statement of foreign policy in his Chicago speech Tuesday.

This view was expressed following action of the League of Nations Assembly in adopting a resolution condemning Japan's "invasion" of China and summing signatories of the Nine-power Treaty to consider possible action to halt it.

CO-OPERATION POSSIBLE

LONDON (AP) — The Cabinet today weighed the growing dangers to world peace both in Europe and the Far East, with President Roosevelt's call for action against military aggression interpreted unofficially as inviting British co-operation in the Orient.

Sentiment here plainly was opposed to the possibility of a lone-handed fight against Japanese militarism, but informed persons believed the cabinet might be prepared to adopt a sterner attitude in co-operation with the United States.

What the cabinet sought was a magic formula to quarantine the twin "contagions" of war—as Mr. Roosevelt put it in his Chicago address Tuesday—both in Spain and in Asia.

Time Limit For Duce On Spanish Talks

Britain and France Wait Only Day More For Italy to Join Conference

LONDON (AP) — The British government today granted Premier Mussolini only 24 hours more for a reply to a Franco-British invitation to tri-power talks on the grave Spanish situation.

With two wars threatening world peace, informed sources said the cabinet had agreed to wait no longer in the face of what it considers evidence that Duce has sent more planes, as well as his pilot son, Bruno, to aid insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco in defiance of non-intervention pledges.

A new factor in the troubled situation these sources declared, was the "legitimate" assumption President Roosevelt's Chicago speech had aroused for Geneva to expect United States collaboration.

Disquieting feature was reports the Italian Black Arrow Brigade had re-appeared in the northeastern Spanish fighting.

Spanish government scouts reported papers found on insurgent dead on an upper Aragon battlefield indicated all of a large column thrown back by government forces were Italian soldiers. They were said to be of the Black Arrow brigade that helped Gen. Franco capture Santander several weeks ago.

They had apparently been brought from northern Spain into the struggle from strategic

Chinese Block Japanese Drive

SHANGHAI (AP) — The Japanese advance on all China fronts from Shanghai to the far north was reported Wednesday to have been halted by stiffened Chinese resistance.

In the Shanghai sector, the repeated Japanese thrusts against the 25-mile line running north-west from the North Station were beaten back by force of numbers in hand-to-hand combat.

Far to the north in the strategically more important operations in the rich provinces of Hopeh and Shantung, reliable foreign reports bore out the Chinese claim that Japan's push had been stopped.

IN TECHOW DISTRICT

In the eastern sector of the north China war zone, Japanese claimed their mechanized column had invaded Shantung province, completed the capture of the walled city of Techow and was pressing on against Tsinanfu, the provincial capital.

Correspondents for the Associated Press and other foreign observers at Tsinanfu reported, however, that a Chinese counter-attack had forced the Japanese to abandon their siege of Techow and retreat to the north.

Victims of Undeclared War in China

Row on row, cots crowded together as closely as possible, China's wounded soldiers jam the hospital in the French Concession at Shanghai. This view of a wardroom affords a glimpse of the congestion of patients that taxes the efforts of the sorely overworked staff to mend war-broken bodies.

Three Theatres In Victoria Closed By Operators' Strike

The managers of the three local theatres which did not open issued a brief statement this afternoon saying that while they had not opened so far negotiations were under way and they hoped to open up later in the day.

Moving-picture theatres of British Columbia, controlled by Famous Players' Canadian Corporation, including three in Victoria, and many of the independent houses, were closed today by a strike of projectionists and the provincial government stepped in to urge conciliation and prevent the walkout lasting any length of time.

In Victoria, the Capitol, Dominion and Atlas Theatres failed to open their doors for the regular early matinees at noon with prospects that an agreement could be reached by which they would open later in the day.

Three independent theatres, the Plaza, Columbia and Oak Bay, opened as usual.

In Vancouver spokesmen for the British Columbia Projectionists' Society said the strike would close all but ten theatres in the province.

The dispute is over new wage contracts asked by the projectionists calling for increases.

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer announced that the government was urging conciliation. Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, and Adam Bell, deputy, were in Vancouver meeting both sides.

"We are investigating and hope to bring the parties to some kind of an agreement so the strike will be short-lived," Mr. Wismer said.

Ontario Voters Choose House

Dull Weather in Most Part of Province; Heavy Vote in London

TORONTO (CP) — Voting in Ontario's general election up to the middle of this afternoon was reported light in many constituencies. While the weather was threatening and sultry, it appeared probable most of the province would escape rain until the polling hours were over.

While most of the cities and towns reported light voting between 8 a.m. E.S.T., when the polls opened, and 3 this afternoon, an exception was London. Voting there was described as one of the heaviest ever recorded at all city polls. The weather was dry.

There was no early rush to the polls, however, in Toronto's 13 constituencies, and the morning vote was reported comparatively light also in Peterborough, Kingston, St. Catharines, Galt, Sarnia, Chatham and Brantford.

In contrast polling was heavy

RECEIVE BIDS FOR NEW BANK

Local Firms Tender For Construction of Dominion Bank Building

At least two local firms, Luney Brothers Limited and David W. Burnett, submitted tenders for the construction of a new building for the Dominion Bank on the corner of Douglas and Yates Streets, it was learned here today as bids were received and forwarded to eastern Canada headquarters.

The local branch and J. Graham Johnson, architect, acting for the bank, were bound to secrecy on the project, but from other sources it was learned the building would be a modernistic two-story structure with a stone facade.

It was understood six tenders had been received, three from Victoria and a similar number from Vancouver.

Specifications called for basement excavations, requiring removal of considerable rock, and frame construction of reinforced concrete as well as certain brick walling. The public space in the bank is scheduled to be finished in marble with fixtures finished in patent "Fornico." A lot of chrome and inlaid strips of chromium material will embellish the interior, it is understood.

Upstairs specifications call for birch finishing. Metal stairs will be covered with mastic finish.

In addition to the stone facade, black granite from Quebec is considered for the external base and a frieze.

It was believed Smith Bros. & Wilson and Carter, Halls-Aldinger Co. Ltd. of Vancouver were submitting bids.

American League Champions Take Advantage of Error by Bartell to Score Seven Runs in Big In- ning Against Giants, National League Winners, As All-New York World Series Gets Under Way; Gomez Is Winning Pitcher; Lazzeri Hits Home Run

YANKEE STADIUM, New York (AP) — Concentrating their heavy fire in one big seven-run inning, the sixth, the New York Yankees, American League champions, whipped Carl Hubbell and the New York Giants, National League titleholders, 8 to 1, today in the first game of the 1937 world baseball series, before close to 60,000 fans.

After being handcuffed with one hit through the first five innings, the American League champions broke loose in the sixth with a barrage of five hits that drove Hubbell from the mound and continued against Harry Gumbert and Dick Coffman. Four walks and a pair of Giant errors helped in the scoring.

Meantime, the Yankees' south-paw ace, Lefty Gomez, survived one bad inning, the fifth, when the Giants scored their only run, and went on to win with a sixth-inning performance in his first assignment as opening-day pitcher in the world series.

The only run for the Yanks that did not come in their sixth-inning spree was produced in the eighth on a long homer into the left field stands by Tony Lazzeri.

GIANTS' LONE RUN

The final count showed the Giants with six hits to the Yankees' seven, but in only one frame did Gomez allow more than one hit. That was the fifth, when consecutive singles by Jimmy Riddle and Johnny McCarthy, and a double-play grounder by Gus Mancuso, brought in the Giants' only run. Burgess Whitehead followed with a two-bagger in the same frame, but was stranded when Carl Hubbell grounded out.

Joe DiMaggio, playing his second straight world series in as many seasons in the big leagues, led the Yankee attack with two singles, but there was no individual batting star for the American Leaguers, since every hitter in the lineup did his share in the big sixth-inning when they batted around for their winning rally.

The victory was Gomez's fourth in series competition. For Hubbell, it was his first defeat on an opening-day assignment after he had been victorious against the Washington Senators in 1933 and the Yankees last year in first-day flinging efforts.

FIRST INNING

Giants—Moore grounded out to Gehrig unassisted. Bartell singled on a sharp grounder just inside the third base line. Ott lifted a high fly to Gehrig. Leiber fanned.

FIFTY-ONE OUT; FORTY MEN IN JAIL

VANCOUVER (CP) — Fifty-one of the 91 single unemployed men arrested by police Monday for obstructing police officers while allegedly soliciting funds on downtown streets were released today on their own cognizance to appear in police court Friday. The other 40 were kept in the city jail.

EDMONTON (CP) — A fourth charge — defamatory libel — was read to G. F. Powell, emissary of Major C. H. Douglas, when he appeared in the police court here today. Mr. Powell was arrested Tuesday night on three charges, counselling to murder, seditious libel and defamatory libel "well knowing the same to be false."

The charges were laid on complaint of Senator W. A. Griesbach in connection with publication of a leaflet.

Mr. Powell reserved plea on all four counts and Magistrate A. H. Gibson adjourned the preliminary hearing until October 14 when J. H. Unwin, M.P.P. for Edmonton and government whip in the Alberta Legislature, also will appear for preliminary hearing on the same four charges.

BAIL IS $20,000

Mr. Powell, Social Credit "expert" sent to Alberta from England early in June by Major Douglas to investigate the technical and political situation in the province, was released on $20,000 bail, which included $10,000 on his own cognizance.

He was arrested on only three charges when he walked voluntarily into the Edmonton police station Tuesday night and said, because he wanted to know federal plans for disposal of the

Yukon Transfer Plan Is Delayed

Nothing to Be Done Pending
Royal Commission Report

OTTAWA (CP) — Premier Pattullo of British Columbia announced today the Dominion Government had concurred in his suggestion that action to include the Yukon Territory within British Columbia's boundaries be held in abeyance until consideration can be given the report of the royal commission on Dominion-provincial relations.

Before he left Victoria for the east Premier Pattullo indicated negotiations for transfer of the Yukon to British Columbia might be held up, particularly, he said, because he wanted to know federal plans for disposal of the block of the Northwest Territories adjoining the Yukon and at the north of British Columbia.

Earlier in the year it had been stated the whole Yukon "plan" would go before the Legislature for debate, but today's announcement from Ottawa removes it from the agenda for the coming session.

Huge Shipment Arrives From Holland For Wooldridge
Farm

Dominion plant inspectors were busy examining 35 tons of bulbs at a wharf in the Inner harbor today.

The huge shipment, which was ordered from Holland by the Wooldridge Bulb Farm Ltd. of Vancouver Island, arrived at mid-night.

H. F. Aulds, Dominion plant inspector, Vancouver, came over to Victoria to aid John Noble, local inspector, in the huge task of clearing the million or more bulbs.

The shipment is made up of 27½ tons of daffodils, 25 tons of which are of one variety—King Alfred; 50,000 tulips; 5,000 hyacinths, crocuses and small parcels of other spring bulbs.

Practically all the bulbs are destined for the Wooldridge Bulb Farm's plantation on the Indian Reserve near the Dominion Illustration Farm at Koksilah. A few thousand have been ordered for other local growers.

reserved assent Tuesday and referred three provincial statutes unsigned to the Governor-General.

Constitutional students are watching with keen interest the situation created by the Lieutenant-Governor's refusal to follow the customary course of assenting to all legislation originated by the ministers and passed by the Legislature. If the same circumstances arose between the Governor-General of Canada and the Dominion Executive Council the result would almost inevitably be resignation of the government.

HOUSE PROROGUED

EDMONTON (CP)—With fate of three bills resting with the Governor-General, the Alberta Legislature stood prorogued today after a special session which lasted eight days.

Assent to eight other bills, seven of which became law automatically, was given by Lieut. Gov. J. C. Bowen when he prorogued the session yesterday. The eighth will become law on proclamation.

Among the bills which received assent and became law was one repealing the Legislative Assembly Act under which recall proceedings had been started against Premier Aberhart in Okotoks-High River. The Premier voted against repeal.

Japan Demands Free Movement

Foreign Office and Navy Reply to President Roosevelt's Speech

TOKIO (AP)—Japan officially answered President Roosevelt's condemnation of aggressor nations today with a warning that "peace will be difficult to maintain if the demands of the 'have not' nations are refused."

The Foreign Office spokesman said in reply to the United States President's speech at Chicago Tuesday that "the ideals of right as conceived by western peoples is incompatible to that of the Orient."

He added that Japan's demand was that the Japanese people be permitted "to enjoy the freedom of movement and happiness which is rightfully theirs."

Harking back to the Japanese exclusion law passed by the United States in 1924, the spokesman characterized it as "one which is against the natural laws of mankind and is greatly deplored by the Japanese people."

"Japan's population has doubled during the past 50 years. Being crammed in such a limited area, Japan wants to send her people elsewhere, but all outlets are denied by countries everywhere."

While the spokesman denied Japan was making any demands as a "have not" nation, he asserted:

"We hear of late a heated argument on the question of unequal distribution of resources between the have and the have not countries."

"If the have refuses to concede to the rightful demands of the have nots, peace will be difficult to maintain."

SPEEDING UP

At the same time one of Japan's highest naval officials declared flatly:

"We can not stay our hands out of respect for a world opinion formed on the basis of dispatches rewritten by Chinese governmental officials. We believe the surest way to minimize suffering is to speed the conclusion. We will do everything possible to speed the end and bring the situation back to normal."

The Japanese comment was based on the obvious assumption that President Roosevelt's attack on aggressor nations was aimed, in part, at Japan's campaign against China.

The Foreign Office spokesman openly raised the question of Mr. Roosevelt's having "the present Sino-Japanese affair" in mind and emphasized that in that case his remarks were "equally applicable."

"The world has been created for mankind," he said, "and, therefore, all honest and industrious people have the right to live anywhere in pursuit of life, liberty and happiness."

NOISE OF FRICTION

"But when, on the one hand, there is a group of peoples living in happiness with amassed fortunes and, on the other, there is a group of people being denied such happiness, you have the Chinese maxim: 'When things are unbalanced the noise of friction arises.'"

"The secret of good government is to prevent friction among peoples; this is a fundamental truth both in internal and international politics."

"Japan's intention to carry on her peaceful development on the continent is not only for the sake of the Japanese alone but for the sake of the happiness of the Chinese."

"What Japan wants is peaceful co-operation between Japan and China. That co-operation China refused by force of arms, resulting in the present affair."

"We are confident that the thinking people of China will realize the true intentions of Japan and take a course of mutual aid and co-operation for peace in East Asia."

U.S. Is Urged To Boycott Japan

SHANGHAI (AP)—Dr. Alfred Sze, former Chinese ambassador at Washington, in a broadcast to the United States today urged an American boycott of Japan.

"If you boycott Japan," Dr. Sze said, "you will find you have contributed to the greatest single step of progress in history. You will prove that might is not right unless might is backed by right."

JAPAN CALLED ON TO DISCUSS SETTLEMENT IN CHINA

Delegates of Norway and South Africa, who Tuesday night announced they would abstain, came to the support of the resolutions adopted by the Assembly on recommendation of a special Far Eastern advisory committee. A United States observer, Leland Harrison, sat with the advisory committee.

MOVING FIRMLY

The Agha Khan summed up the League's work thus: "What present conditions allow the League to do in the economic sphere—it has done."

"Grasping at its opportunities and facing its responsibilities, it has set itself unflinchingly to those grave problems which today beset the international community. Of this our debates on the Spanish problem, on mandates and on the grave situation in China are eloquent proof."

ONTARIO VOTERS CHOOSE HOUSE

at Thorold, Fort Erie, Sault Ste. Marie and Owen Sound. The polls will close at 7 p.m. E.S.T. (4 p.m. P.S.T.).

The decision of who shall govern Ontario for the next five years—Premier Mitchell Hepburn's Liberals or the Conservatives led by Hon. Earl Rowe—rests with the voters.

The 41-year-old Liberal leader, confident his three years in power would bring renewal of mandate from the people, planned to await the result of his appeal at his South Yarmouth farm near St. Thomas. In a pre-election statement he expressed the belief he would control 75 of the 90 seats in the next Legislature, as compared with 72 in the last House.

Mr. Rowe, who at 43 stepped from Dominion to provincial politics, arranged to receive the election returns at his farm at Newton Robinson, near Barrie. His election forecast was a Conservative victory in 60 seats. Mr. Rowe resigned from the Dominion Parliament to contest Simcoe Centre.

C.C.F. EXPECTATIONS

Last minute claims of Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, which has 38 candidates in the field, indicated their hope the C.C.F. might hold a balance of power in the new Legislature. Herbert Orville, Ontario C.C.F. secretary, said that "if the people have really caught the vision of a world of economic security for all, a world of happiness and the fullest development of one's individual capacity, it is by no means unreasonable to expect 25 of the 38 C.C.F. candidates will be elected." By an outside chance the C.C.F. could have the largest group in the House.

Forty-six seats are necessary to control the Legislature, and at dissolution in August the Liberals had 64, Conservatives 17, Liberal-Progressives 4, C.C.F.-1, Independent 1, U.F.O. 1, and 2 were vacant.

areas along France's Spanish frontier through which arms and foreign reinforcements for the Valencia government would stream if non-intervention control of the border were relinquished.

The scouts said the men were fighting with Italian equipment. At the same time the cabinet today had before it the implications of a pronouncement in Mussolini's Milan newspaper that the world was going Fascist, with pointed references to the Orient and South America, and a renewal of pirate submarine activity in the Mediterranean.

Windsors Next Week in Germany

PARIS (AP)—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor plan to leave for Germany next Sunday on the first stage of the survey of social problems which will take them to the United States, a friend of theirs said today.

It was understood they would stay briefly in the Reich, then return to Paris to prepare for the more extensive study in the United States.

Specific plans for the American trip have not been arranged. The Duke has accepted engagements in Paris for as late as October 27.

Slayer of S. Lawrence Believed Excited By Argument On Election

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP)—Police today started a search for the slayer of Sidney Lawrence, brother of the only Co-operative Commonwealth Federation member of the last Ontario Legislature, a few hours after he had died from a stab wound here.

Found unconscious on a sidewalk Monday, Lawrence was taken to a hospital, where he declined to name the attacker. But a few hours before his death late Tuesday night he mentioned "an argument over the elections."

His brother, Sam Lawrence, is a candidate in today's Ontario general election in Hamilton East constituency, which sent him to the Legislature in 1934.

Convinced Sidney was the victim of a murderous attack—a knife had pierced his abdomen—police used every resource to prepare for a coroner's inquest ordered by Dr. J. H. Mullin, chief coroner. Date of the inquest was not set.

SPEECH WELCOMED

All sections of the London press today hailed President Roosevelt's Tuesday address in Chicago as one of the most important ever made by a United States president in time of peace, but differed in interpreting it.

Some morning papers read the President's words as an indirect invitation for action against Japan to stop the Japanese-Chinese conflict. Others suggested he was raising a trial balloon to attempt to gauge United States opinion on possible future intervention.

The London Times said it thought he was defining an attitude, not a programme.

"It will be for other machinery than that of the platform to explore and determine possible forms in which action could, at need, be concerted and the objects which it should seek," it said.

The London Daily Telegraph said it would be unbelievable that the leader of the American nation should utter such a warning and yet do nothing to avert threatened danger.

DEFINITE PROPOSAL

The Labor organ, The London Daily Herald, declared that "obviously the President was in no mood to reject out of hand any proposal for united pressure on Japan."

"If Whitehall, instead of mulling excuses, would put up some definite proposition to Washington, there would be a real chance for effective action," it added.

GERMAN REACTION

BERLIN (AP)—The German Foreign Office issued a warning to President Roosevelt today to "remember the shipwreck" of his predecessor, Woodrow Wilson—commenting on the American President's appeal against aggressors in his Chicago speech on Tuesday.

Speaking through the official mouthpiece, Deutsche Diplomatische-Politische Korrespondenz, the Foreign Office inquired which nations Mr. Roosevelt was talking about in his Chicago speech.

"If the President of the United States sees salvation in union of peaceful nations and frightening off of the bad, then such a proposal can have a practical value only if clarity already has been established as to which are good and which are bad."

Germans, the article continued, cannot be blamed for remembering Woodrow Wilson's efforts to initiate reform of international relationships, according to the principle of justice and morality (through the League of Nations).

Wilson's authority, however, was "insufficient to make even partially effective the peace principles he proclaimed," the Foreign Office newspaper said.

If again a President of the United States, it continued, "lifts his voice in an attempt to influence, not to say intervene, in world, and therefore European, affairs, one has the right to expect him to pick up the thread where Wilson dropped it."

Theatres operated by Famous Players were closed when a deadline of 10 this morning set by the projectionists went by without a settlement. An all-night conference in Vancouver ended in a deadlock over the projectionists' demands for new contracts.

ALTERNATIVE PLANS

The contracts call for a two-year agreement with immediate 10 per cent pay increases, or an alternative plan whereby wages would be increased immediately 6 per cent, with another 3 per cent raise next year and a third in 1939.

The number of men affected by the walkout was not immediately available at headquarters of the society, an affiliate of the American Federation of Labor.

Fifteen independent theatres in Greater Vancouver and New Westminster closed their doors yesterday when projectionists walked out. The Famous Players houses were given an additional day so they might communicate with their head office in Toronto.

Yesterday secretary E. J. Williams of the society said theatres in Nanaimo, Chilliwack, Kamloops, Vernon, Kelowna, Penticton, Rossland, Revelstoke and Prince Rupert would be affected.

A delegation of six, representing the B.C. Independent Theatres Association, headed by Frederick Guest, met Attorney-General Gordon Wismer this morning, urging that the government give them permits to reopen their houses despite the strike.

Mr. Wismer refused, saying the government could not place itself in the position of a strike-breaker.

The theatre men suggested the government waive the regulation which calls for employment of two fully licensed projectionists in one booth. They said British Columbia was the only province in Canada where this was required. They wish to reopen with one licensed projectionist and one assistant.

The Attorney-General said the government would insist that the regulations be fully met.

Spokesmen for the delegation said their main reason for refusing demands of the projectionists was that they wanted a three-year contract at increased wages.

swinging at a fast ball with the count two and two.

Yankees—Crossetti walked, the fourth ball being high and outside. Rolfe fanned, swinging at a screwball. DiMaggio singled past Ott, Crossetti stopping at second. Gehrig lifted a high fly to Leiber in short right centre. Dickey drove a long fly to Leiber, who made a nice running catch.

No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

SECOND INNING

Giants—Ripple flied to Hoag. McCarthy lined to Lazzari, who took the ball off his shoetops. Mancuso lined to Selkirk.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Yankees—Hoag grounded out, Bartlett to McCarthy. Selkirk batted out, Whitehead to McCarthy. Lazzari was thrown out by Hubbell, who made a nice gloved-hand stab of Lazzari's hopper.

No runs, not hits, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING

Giants—Whitehead was thrown out when Crossetti stopped his bouncer. Hubbell slashed a long drive but Selkirk caught it on the bank in front of the stands. Moore was thrown out Gomez to Gehrig.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Yankees—Gomez grounded out, Whitehead to McCarthy. Crossetti flied to Moore with the count three and two. Rolfe hoisted a short fly to Moore.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FOURTH INNING

Giants—Bartlett flied deep to Hoag on the first pitch. Ott was thrown out on a pretty play, Lazzari to Gehrig. Tony grabbed a tricky hopper on the run behind second base. Leiber popped to Lazzari, who backed up on the grass for the catch.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Yankees—DiMaggio rolled out, Whitehead to McCarthy. Gehrig fanned, swinging while the crowd roared. Dickey grounded out, McCarthy unassisted.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

FIFTH INNING

Giants—Jimmy Ripple dropped a single into right field. McCarthy singled past Lazzari, sending Ripple to third. Mancuso hit into a double play, Crossetti to Lazzari to Gehrig, while Ripple crossed the plate with the first run of the game. Whitehead lashed a double off the right field line. Hubbell grounded out to Gehrig, unassisted. One run, three hits, no errors, one left.

Yankees—Hoag lifted a high fly to Bartlett. Selkirk hoisted to Ripple in short right. Lazzari went down swinging as Hubbell retired the Yankees in order for the fourth straight inning. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Giants—Moore dribbled a single through the middle of the diamond. Bartlett flied to Selkirk. Ott fouled to Dickey. Leiber flied deep to Hoag. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Yankees—Gomez walked with the count three and two. Crossetti singled sharply to left, Gomez stopping at second. It was the first hit off Hubbell since the first inning. Rolfe up. Mancuso threw to Bartlett and Gomez was trapped off second. The Giant shortstop dropped the ball, however, and was charged with an error as Gomez scrambled back to second safely. Rolfe dropped a single in short left with the count three and two, filling the bases. DiMaggio cracked the first pitch to left centre for a single, scoring Gomez and Crossetti. Rolfe ran to third and DiMaggio made second on the throw-in. Bartlett cut off Leiber's throw after the centrefielder had juggled the ball and just failed to catch DiMaggio at second. Gehrig was intentionally passed to fill the bases again.

Whitehead failed to hold Dickey's sharp grounder as it went for a single scoring Rolfe and leaving the bases filled. Hoag grounded to Ott and DiMaggio was forced at the plate, Ott to Mancuso.

Selkirk singled sharply to right, scoring Gehrig and Dickey and sending Hoag to third. It was decided to take Hubbell from the box and he was replaced by a right-hander, Dick Coffman.

The announcer erroneously reported Harry Gumbert had been selected to replace Hubbell. Manager Bill Terry of the Giants came out for a conference at the plate with the umpires before play was resumed. The hitch was over the announcement Gumbert was to pitch. Accordingly, Gumbert was ordered to the mound instead of Coffman.

Lazzari's sharp grounder went through Whitehead for an error, scoring Hoag and sending Selkirk to third. Coffman replaced Gumbert in the box. Gomez walked, the fourth ball being low. It was his second pass of the inning and filled the bases again.

Crossetti lifted a short fly to Moore. Rolfe walked with the count three and one, forcing Selkirk across the plate. DiMaggio lined to Leiber in deep centre.

Seven runs, five hits, two errors, three left.

SEVENTH INNING

Giants—Ripple flied to Hoag in short left. McCarthy rolled out, Gomez to Gehrig. Mancuso hoisted to DiMaggio in short centre.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Yankees—Gehrig walked with the count three and two, the fourth ball being wide. Dickey walked on four straight pitches and the Giants bullpen went into action again. Hoag hit into a double play, Ott to Whitehead to McCarthy, as Gehrig reached third. Selkirk grounded out, Bartlett to McCarthy.

EIGHTH INNING

Giants—Whitehead flied to DiMaggio. Berger, batting for Coffman, hoisted a high fly to DiMaggio. Moore dropped a Texas League single in left. Bartlett lined to Hoag.

No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Yankees—Al Smith, a southpaw, went to the box. He was the fourth pitcher for the Giants. Lazzari hit a home run into the lower left field stands. Gomez flied to Ripple, who made a one-handed stab after misjudging the ball. Crossetti lined to Ott. Rolfe hoisted to Moore.

One run, one hit, no errors, none left.

Giants—Ott went down swinging. Leiber lined to DiMaggio. Ripple walked, the fourth ball being low. McCarthy grounded out to Gehrig unassisted.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

NINTH INNING

Giants—Ott went down swinging. Leiber lined to DiMaggio. Ripple walked, the fourth ball being low. McCarthy grounded out to Gehrig unassisted.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Fire Loan Oct. 23Stock Swing Is Widely StudiedShrinkage in Quoted Values On New York Exchange Various Explained

NEW YORK (AP)—The staggering shrinkage of some $10,000,000 in the total quoted value of securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange since August has set Wall Street and Washington experts feverishly re-examining the course of recovery.

It was no secret the curve of business volumes, after tending pretty steadily upward for some time, had levelled off since spring.

Then came the drastic slump in Wall Street. Paper profits were glimmering as stocks like U.S. Steel tumbled $3 or $4 after day. Mystification and consternation spread.

The selling appeared stemmed, at least for the time being, by the end of September, and business barometers well above a year ago were read hopefully.

It was noted that at the end of September the volume of freight rumbling over United States railroads was the largest in seven years. Could business be bad? Obviously it was big.

Stock prices, measured by averages of representative issues, had tumbled to the lowest since 1933. In the short period between August 14 and September 15, the Associated Press average of 60 shares dropped from $70.60 to $53.70, a shrinkage of 24 per cent.

What caused it? Explanations are still various and complex. Washington economists point out there has been a change in the character of government spending, that pump priming is no longer stressed, that the emphasis is now on necessary relief and long-lived projects. Only last week, President Roosevelt spoke of a balanced budget for the 1938-39 fiscal year. Particularly significant, as some see it, is the fact the treasury has been curtailing borrowing from banks for several months.

What has hit the stock market as hard as anything, a number of Wall Street experts say, is the fact that with higher wage and material costs, profit-margins have narrowed. They point to the railroads. In August, latest month for which reports are available, they took in $9,000,000 more in gross revenues than a year previously, but after operating expenses were paid, they had $14,000,000 less than in the same month of 1936.

In the meantime, many business men remain optimistic, pointing to the bumper crop, estimates of the best farm income since 1929, a halt to the climb in raw material prices, and approach of the active production season for automobiles.

The play scored an immediate hit. A version of it was produced in London under the title "Storm in a Teacup," and in America as "Storm Over Patsy," and a screen adaptation of it was made. An appealing little mongrel dog was one of the foremost characters in each production.

Where legal investigative and newspaper protests and public indignation had failed to stir the German government to action in the matter of the high dog tax, this play, on stage and on screen, achieved the purpose. Besides being propaganda, it was good entertainment. Also it stirred popular sympathy as no mere written words could have hoped to. After its first run at Munich, the dog tax was cut down from 60 marks a year to 40, and later to 30.

LONDON (AP)—Samuel Insull was back in London today, visiting the city of his birth. Tuesday he had his first glimpse of the Insull memorial wing of the National Temperance Hospital, which he helped finance in 1930.

Inspecting the modern X-ray electric massage rooms, he turned to the hospital secretary and asked:

"How much did you say I gave towards this?"

"Thirty thousand pounds," was the reply.

"Thirty thousand pounds? Really, I don't remember."

Propose Department With Chief and Eight Men

Oak Bay ratepayers will vote Saturday, October 23, on a money by-law for the provision of a municipal fire department. The by-law was passed by the Oak Bay Council last night after a two-hour debate in camera.

The proposed loan is of $36,000 at 4 per cent, with amortization in ten years. Interest and sinking fund charges will amount to $4,653 annually.

The net cost to property-owners over the 10-year period will be slightly higher than that of protection from the city of Victoria at the new rate set recently by the city council for next year.

LOWER INSURANCE

Oak Bay official report that fire underwriters have definitely promised a substantial reduction in insurance rates in the event the municipality installs its own department. The equipment proposed for acquisition under the loan has been given the approval of the underwriters.

The gross increase in fire protection costs under the new arrangement, will be approximately two mills over one mill more than it would have been next year with the increased charge announced by the city of Victoria for service to Oak Bay. That increase, from $1,000 to $1,500 monthly, precipitated the municipality's move for a separate department.

PLANS FOR DEPARTMENT

It is proposed to erect a fire hall on the southeast side of the junction of Monterey Avenue and St. Anne Street, on property owned by the municipality. Another piece of reverted property opposite the hall may be used as the site for a house for the fire chief.

The new department is expected to be staffed by a chief and eight firemen, with an additional volunteer call roll.

Contemplated equipment includes two pumper trucks with booster tanks and an adequate supply of hose, and a car for the fire chief that may also carry some emergency equipment.

The new fire hall will be a mile and a half nearer the average Oak Bay home than the Yates Street hall, from which the municipality is at present served, there will be immediate reserve equipment, and the new fire chief will be able to undertake efficient fire prevention work.

Voting on the by-law will be at the municipal hall. R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk, will be the returning officer.

Swan Tells Of Bridge Problems

Pattullo Bridge Endangered
By Strong Currents, Engineer Informs Meeting

BOSTON (CP)—Heavy currents which "scoured" the river bottom and endangered caissons were the greatest problem facing engineers who built the new Pattullo Bridge over the Fraser River at New Westminster, B.C., Major W. G. Swan of Vancouver told the joint meeting of the Engineering Institute of Canada and the American Society of Civil Engineers here today.

Major Swan, consulting engineer for the British Columbia government during construction of the bridge, said the spring freshet of June, 1936, scoured the river bottom to a depth varying from 20 to 40 feet around piers 4 and 5, near the main channel. Both piers were endangered, and pier 4 was only saved from destruction by piling hundreds of tons of rock over the lower side, which was eight feet out of level.

Maximum velocity of the current at the bridge site was eight and a half miles an hour at the height of the freshet, and "only the heavy upstream anchors held one caisson from being pressed downstream." Major Swan said the new bridge deck was of reinforced concrete 40 feet wide, providing for four lanes of traffic. A six-foot sidewalk was provided on the downstream side of the structure.

The bridge approach at the south end was 1,400 feet long and built of reinforced concrete. The main and central span 450 feet long with flanking spans of 350 feet. Clearance under the central span is 150 feet above normal freshet level.

Roosevelt Home
At Hyde ParkU.S. President Rests in New York State After Tour to Victoria

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—President Roosevelt terminated an epochal 8,000-mile cross-country tour today pledged to a fresh foreign policy of isolating aggressor nations to prevent the spread of the "contagion" of war to the overwhelming majority of countries anxious to live in peace.

After his climatic foreign policy speech and a campaign-like parade in Chicago, he looked forward to two days of rest at Hyde Park in the company of his aged mother who has just returned from a long holiday in Europe.

He planned to return to Washington Friday morning, but to come back to Hyde Park a week from today to dedicate a new post office at Poughkeepsie.

SPECIAL SESSION

Evidence of a special session of Congress may be called to convene in mid-November were given by some presidential callers during the trip that took him to Victoria, B.C., and back, but presidential aides insisted this was not yet settled.

Although labor and farm legislation topped the immediate objectives outlined on the nerve-racking journey, the President also talked of:

1. A balanced budget by the next fiscal year starting July 1, 1938.

2. Continued programmes to irrigate dry areas and transfer poor land farmers to more productive regions.

3. Wider distribution of control of industry.

4. Less federal spending.

5. A more prosperous agriculture.

6. Wider possible distribution of hydro-electric power at cheap rates.

7. Fewer over-sized cities and more smaller towns.

Everybody Pays For Fires

A SPECIAL EMPHASIS IS BEING placed this week on fire prevention, it might be well to cite the success along these lines in the city of Albany, Georgia. There fire prevention education has played an important part in bringing the fire loss down in a 10-year period from $3.45 per capita to 14 cents per capita.

Fire Chief Brosman is credited with this much-to-be-desired condition which has won for Albany the title of "the fireless city." He has taken the attitude that a fire that never starts never gets out of control and has firemen "fight fires before they are born."

Fires, he argues, are a reflection of the intelligence of citizens. Absence of fires is an indication of good citizenship. Men of his staff spend a great deal of their time on inspection tours to note where a fire hazard exists and to eliminate it. Citizens, proud of Albany's record as a fireless city, are ready to co-operate when attention is drawn to a condition that creates a fire danger.

The important feature of this is that today Albany enjoys the lowest fire insurance rates in the southwest and they are justified by the underwriters' experience. Progressive reduction of rates represents an annual saving to property owners amounting to several times the cost of maintaining the fire department.

"Why Stop Learning?"

SOMETIMES WHEN PEOPLE ARE EARN- estly discussing other people we hear the common expression: "But he's only half educated." It is a mistake. Very few people in the world today are, or ever can be, even as much as half educated.

The available store of knowledge—to say nothing of wisdom, which is different—is so illimitably vast that no ordinary mind could possibly encompass much of it. What we have to do in that circumstance is to select what we want to know and use to our advantage or happiness and get all the knowledge we can about it from experts in those subjects.

The Provincial Department of Education is doing a good work. We have before us a new brochure issued by the department upon "Vocational Correspondence Courses" and it is a good thing. The slogan on the cover is most inspiring, it says "Why Stop Learning?" A "note to adult students" printed on the back page is one of the most useful thoughts in an age where many good men find themselves temporarily out of the scheme of things. It says:

A foolish fallacy has possessed the minds of many comparatively young men in years past that if they were over 30 years of age, and certainly if past 40, they would have poor chances for success in any line of directed study, such as a correspondence course. Nothing could be more fallacious and mischievous. Men in their 30's and 40's usually know very definitely what they wish to do and this clear-cut purpose helps them in achieving it. Furthermore, their extensive experience gives them a more sound basis of judgment and a surer estimate of values. There are no limits to the process of learning for persons enjoying reasonably good health, hence we must continue to ask, "Why Stop Learning?"

The brochure is short and gives full and concise information upon such highly important technical courses as practical electricity, mining and prospecting, theoretical aviation and navigation, forestry, Diesel engineering, house painting, interior decorating and other courses that are peculiarly suited to those forceful and forward-looking kinds of men who would rather develop the resources of the country on their own than work all their lives for wages.

That seems to be what is necessary in British Columbia. It is still in many respects a pioneer's country if we could only get the sons of the pioneers to see it instead of remaining too much attached to the more popular manifestations of their father's successes like movies, telephones, hospitals, dancing places and beer parlors.

If the facilities here offered are taken up by the right people it is quite conceivable that the period of forced unemployment under which they naturally chafe may turn out to be the best thing that ever happened to them.

Hot Potato in Palestine

THAT THE HOT POTATO WHICH Britain picked up for herself in Palestine, during and after the war, is not getting any cooler these days is tragically proved by the murder of the British commissioner, Lewis Andrews, by a band of terrorists.

During the war the Allies, needing everybody's help in the far east, sought to get it by promising "everybody everything." The Jews were promised a restoration of the homeland in Palestine; the Arabs were promised an independent Arab nation. Ever since the war it has been Britain's task to try to keep the peace in a Palestine which was the scene of these contradictory promises. That is what the Jewish-Arab trouble in Palestine boils down to.

What Will Ottawa Do?

WHEN WE SAID YESTERDAY THAT a new law had passed to the statute books of Alberta to govern the press of that province, we did not count on the possibility of Lieut.-Gov. Bowen exercising his prerogative by withholding signature of the bill which seems to have been regarded as Premier Aberhart's pet of the short legislative session just ended. His Honor, however, reserved assent to this and two other measures pending reference to the Governor-General. In other words, the fate of the three bills which remain without assent rests with Mr. Mackenzie King and his colleagues.

Experienced observers at Ottawa, while pointing out that Alberta's Lieutenant-Governor is strictly within his constitutional limits in withholding his assent to the legislation in question, are of the opinion that a precedent has been established. But they look for recognition of the generally accepted tradition that if an executive council loses the confidence of the Lieutenant-Governor, it resigns, leaving the latter official to call on some other member of the Legislature to form a government. The present instance in Alberta, of course, is not a case of refusal of legislation; it is one of unwillingness on behalf of a Lieutenant-Governor to sign without advice—meaning further instructions from Ottawa.

Various reports are in circulation as to how Premier Aberhart would fare if he went to the people at this time on his record. Social Credit is still a subject of discussion by those who try to make us believe that it is a simple panacea for most of our economic ills. Simple as they try to make it appear, however, it has evaded application by the party elected to office on the strength of promises made under its banner.

What the electors of Alberta do with their government when they have the opportunity of passing judgment on its conduct is their own concern. We shall be very much surprised, however, if more than a comparatively small number of the public of Alberta could be found in the mood to tolerate in office a government pledged so to throttle the press of the province.

The course followed by the Lieutenant-Governor at Edmonton yesterday will raise discussion on the constitutional point. But the voter will read into it—foremost in our consideration is the "press bill"—an obvious desire at least to postpone the operation of fantastic legislation positively inimical to the interests of the people as a whole.

A Useful Businessman

EDWARD A. FILENE, THE BOSTON merchant who died in Paris the other day, was a useful and distinguished citizen whose active and inquiring mind led him into ways surprisingly unorthodox for a man of his position.

Head of a great department store, he was also an active supporter of the co-operative merchandising movement—which would be about the last thing on earth one would expect a store owner to support. A large-scale employer, he preached the gospel of shorter hours and higher wages. Politically, he was an active liberal who was not afraid to direct his shots at big business and high finance.

In his death, Boston loses one of her most distinguished citizens, United States one of her most useful businessmen, and the cause of social welfare one of its most sincere and original thinkers.

THE TUNGCHOW INCIDENT

From The Toronto Star

With the compliments of the Japanese legation at Ottawa The Star has received a 22-page booklet entitled "What Happened at Tungchow." It is designed to show that the Chinese in that city near Peiping were guilty of terrible outrages against the colony of 400 Japanese and Koreans who lived in that neighborhood. Most of these were massacred on July 29.

Impartial persons will deplore the inhumanity shown by the Chinese at Tungchow towards the little group of aliens. But the indignation of Japanese should be directed more against their own government for its provocative actions than against the enraged Chinese.

Six years ago Japan took from China by force an area as large as France and Germany put together and containing 35,000,000 people. She was proceeding to take away another area, almost as large, containing 70,000,000 people, when the Tungchow incident developed. The massacre was carried out by troops of the so-called Peace Preservation Corps, which was a Chinese force recruited by the Japanese to serve the Japanese puppet government in East Hopei. Part of that force had joined Japanese warships on July 29 in attacking their own Chinese forts at Taku. But, in their hearts, the members of the corps detected the policy of spoliation which the Japanese were pursuing. So some of their number attacked the headquarters of the puppet government, drove the puppet governor out of the city and killed many of the small Japanese garrison and most of the Japanese residents.

Every one with normal instincts shudders at the thought of human beings perpetrating such cruelties. But, bad as was the conduct of the Chinese mob at Tungchow, it fades into insignificance against the six years' record of outrage and crime committed by the disciplined troops of the Japanese government on Chinese soil and beside the killing last week in cold blood of thousands of Chinese civilians in their own homes by merciless bombing airplanes which afforded the Japanese navy, according to their own spokesman, "deepest satisfaction."

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

DRINK AND SHIPS

DIGGING into the current literature of England, Mr. Jim Butterfield of The Province has dredged up this pearl from a paper called The Oswestry Deanery Magazine: "Every year the nation spends £240,000,000 on liquor. A battleship costs only about £6,000,000. So that every year the value of about 40 battleships is consumed in drink. The former often destroys, the latter always defends us. The first is usually for oneself, the second for us all."

Mr. Butterfield's convincing answer to the plea for more battleships and less drink is that you can't drink battleships, an argument hard to answer. But it seems to occur neither to him nor to The Oswestry Deanery Magazine that some of the £240,000,000 spent on liquor might be spent on such things as slum clearance, education, architecture and recreation which, unlike either drink or battleships, don't hurt anyone, at home or abroad, inside or out.

But all such arguments are entirely useless. If you were to analyze the expenditures of America you would find them quite incredible and illogical. You would find that the American woman spends twice as much on lipstick and eyebrow pencils as the cost of the entire American navy or the entire American educational system. You would find that Canada spends more on tobacco than in training the young. You would find here in British Columbia that about twice as much is spent on liquor as on our schools; five times as much as on hospitals; ten times as much as on our roads. But we have to buy the liquor to keep our government going. And if you were to keep track of what you spend (which no man will do, lest he despair altogether) you would find that most of your money, unless you are very poor, is spent on things you would be better without.

Don't do anything about it. Don't suddenly turn sensible as many people did during the depression. For if everybody were to turn sensible and only buy things he needed, or sane things that were good for him, our entire economic system would collapse, our factories would be idle and most likely you wouldn't have money then to buy even food. Nowadays it is literally true that you must buy lipstick and eyebrow pencil, you must buy liquor, so that you may get money through our extraordinary system to eat.

A good patriot and a sound economist will not hesitate to buy as much lipstick and eyebrow pencil as possible and to get tight as often as he can afford. That is the way to spread the wealth and help his starving neighbor. It is a solemn and inspiring thought that the perpetual soak in British Columbia contributes far more to the maintenance of government hospitals, charities and unemployment relief than his neighbor who lacks the patriotism to drink himself to death.

You would have thought that the public would have realized this by now and responded to the call, but it remains shamefully true that the government still is collecting somewhat more in other taxes than the public spends altogether on liquor.

OUT OF CHINA
ONE OF THE MOST interesting dispatches that has come out of China tells how a group of 20 young Chinamen, knowing that the attempt was certain to kill them all, paddled a huge bomb or torpedo out into the river in an effort to sink the Japanese flagship. Of course, all the young Chinamen were blown up, as they intended to be, but they didn't sink the flagship.

An incident like that gives you a new slant on the Chinese character and on the prospects of China. For 100 years, ever since we began our systematic exploitation of China to unload the surplus goods of our uncontrollable machines, we have regarded them as a pretty poor lot—quiet people, with some kind of ancient civilization which produced spectacles, firecrackers, and some curious Ming vases; timid people not fit to battle or to live beside the unconquerable Nordic.

It turns out in the present war that the Chinese are about as brave as anybody when they are fighting for their own country and will do desperate things such as even Nordics are not in the habit of doing. They may be beaten by the Japanese, with superior armaments, but they can wait. In 50 years, when the Chinese have more guns and ammunition they may well become, with 400,000,000 people for cannon fodder, the most powerful military nation in the world.

That is something you can never realize as you see the harmless Chinese laundryman and vegetable peddler padding about Victoria. Has it ever occurred to the Nordic statesmen that some day the Chinese, having got rid of the Japanese, will also get rid of the whites who now hold privileges in China which no white country grants to anyone? And, as in the case of Japan, it will simply be the Nordic chickens coming home to roost. Japan merely copied western industrialism, or had it forced on her. The same civilization has been forced on China. In due course, western civilization will have to pay a dear price for civilizing the Chinese.

SAD PASSING
IT IS BAD NEWS THAT Mr. Charlie Chaplin is going to discard forever his familiar costume and make-up and instead will do a movie looking as he is off the screen and actually talking. This means that one of the two most interesting public figures of our times (the other, of course, being Donald Duck) is about to die, for Mr. Chaplin in ordinary clothes and no moustache, and actually articulating, is not the Charlie Chaplin we have known.

Price Level Rise Seen As Negating Business Recovery

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON

THE RECENT small dent in the business curve has been taken here and in Wall Street with varying degrees of optimism and pessimism.

You can find more advanced reasons for the stock exchange slump within the administration than you can in New York, where the Stock Exchange is investigating said slump. And much more difference of opinion as to whether the market decline has been a good thing, a bad thing or something of no real importance.

All this writer pretends to be certain about is that Dr. Leon Henderson, chief economist for WPA, last spring—at a time when authorities generally were predicting an uninterrupted two or three year market rise—prophesied a wave of price-raising which would result in a deficit of purchasing power by this fall.

The test of the prophecy is now with us and Henderson believes the outlook isn't any too sweet unless business acts rapidly and on a wide front to:

1. Cut prices where possible.
2. Bring out cheaper lines of goods.
3. Refrain from price increases.

FOUR PER CENT LOSS

HENDERSON believes the stock market went up on the theory of a long uninterrupted rise, whereas continued recovery is based on two things: Reconstruction, which now lags, and purchasing power—increases in which, he says, have been largely destroyed by price increases.

He quotes Dr. Glenn Frank as saying recently that consumer purchases had increased 5 per cent over a year previous, while retail prices had gone up 9 per cent, representing an actual decrease with an inevitable effect on production.

Purchasing power has been held up by higher wages—wage income having increased steadily for 15 months with one exception, farm income—running at the rate of a billion dollars over last year, a national income increase estimated at 11 per cent, bonus payments to veterans and other federal expenditures, and a rise in instalment buying to 50 per cent over the 1929 total. How much of the total, asks Henderson, has gone to pay price boosts?

"If the price level had stayed lower, there would have been a big increase in retail buying instead of a disappointing volume during the summer months," Henderson says. "Because of price increases goods are not being taken off the market and inventories remain high."

"Unless the great mass of people have money to pay the price of goods produced, we will go into a tailspin again, with temporary overproduction and then reduced production schedules. A 'buyers' strike' simply means that the buyer has no credit or money."

SEEKS PROFIT ON VOLUME

HENDERSON would urge business to seek profits on volume of business rather than on high profit per unit.

Automobile companies have advanced prices with the explanation that higher labor costs made it necessary. Henderson, who once supervised an exhaustive study of the automobile industry for NRA, says the increase in automobile labor cost has been relatively small and not as much as to offset the gain from technological improvements and a greater volume of operation.

As to the anticipated fall price-raising wave, Henderson says some manufacturers have put their boosts into effect, others have delayed and some already have withdrawn price advances. Still others are producing newer and cheaper lines.

Better English

By D. C. WILLIAMS

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "Every man, woman and child waved their hand."
2. What is the correct pronunciation of "protege"?
3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Coercion, halcion, suspicion, scion.
4. What does the word "repar-tee" mean?
5. What is a word beginning with t that means "indulgent; liberal"?

Answers
1. Say, "Every man, woman and child waved his hand." 2. Pronounce pro-ta-zha, o as in no, both a's as in day, accent last syllable. 3. Halcion. 4. A clever, ready and witty reply. "She has the gift of reparation." 5. Tolerant.

Alberta Press Law Clashes With Federal Criminal Code

By NORMAN MACLEOD

OTTAWA

AS TO the Social Credit government's most recent attempt to compel newspapers to publish up to one page of material free of charge stating the government's side in any controversy. The first reaction of federal legal authorities to the proposition—they admit their study of it has not been exhaustive as yet—is that it is unconstitutional, as it legislates upon a subject already covered by section 136 of the criminal code of Canada.

What section 136 of the criminal code says is: "Everyone is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to one year's imprisonment who willingly and knowingly publishes any false news or tale whereby injury or mischief is or is likely to be occasioned to any public interest."

The drafters of the proposed Aberhart law, in the opinion of law officers here, were aware of the criminal code section, and carefully sought to avoid conflict by refraining from any mention in the proposed act of the preceding newspaper statements which the government issued statements are intended to correct. The implication of the legislation is regarded here, nevertheless, as sufficiently clear to make the whole act ultra vires.

It is a principle of Canadian law that where the Dominion Parliament has made a certain act a crime, a provincial legislature cannot, in effect, add to or amend the Dominion legislation. Where a Dominion and a provincial statute refer to the same broad subject, the Dominion act stands, and the provincial one is inoperative.

Section 136 of the Criminal Code, furthermore, is no dead letter on the federal statute books. It was invoked once and a decision obtained sustaining it, when the publication of a placard stating that settlers from the United States are not wanted in Canada was declared to be against the public interest and a penalty assessed.

The unsound position taken by the Aberhart government is said by Department of Justice officials to be exposed in the fact that, under section 136, a remedy already exists for the abuse of which the Social Credit ministry is complaining.

Letters to the Editor

EX-SERVICEMEN AROUSED

To the Editor:—The article, "Rather Strong," of September 17, commenting on Dr. Clem Davies statement regarding ex-servicemen arrested in Vancouver on a charge of begging, has aroused criticism among ex-servicemen.

With all due respect to Dr. Davies taking up the cudgels on our behalf, and which is all very well in its way, an ex-servicemen's organization like that of the Ex-servicemen's League, 340-B Cambie Street, Vancouver, of which F. Tyler is secretary, and which has already done good work for the rank and file veteran, is one organization that merits our full support. Our comrades lying in Oakalla jail appeal for our assistance.

SALVATION ARMY STATEMENT

To the Editor:—In view of recent developments in the field of financial campaigns for Social Service work in this city, the Salvation Army feels that the circumstances call for a brief statement with regard to its attitude towards federal charities.

It has been suggested by some that the Salvation Army is opposed to the federated method of financing social service groups. To this we wish to give an unqualified denial. There have been in certain centres in Canada circumstances that have, in our judgment, justified our participating in such a scheme. In other cases we have thought it advisable to remain outside the federated bodies. Local conditions have, therefore, been the deciding factor in the Army's relationship to federated charities.

We are well aware of some of the advantages of a united appeal, both as it effects the unit organizations of a federation and the general public, and in all centres whether we have or have not membership in federated charities we have always sought to maintain a spirit of good will and co-operation. At the present time, the Salvation Army is not a member of the recently formed Victoria federation, but we wish it to be understood that we are willing at any time to discuss with the executives of the federation the question of future relationships.

We have been prompted to make this statement through the press in the interests of our work and in fairness to our many friends who have so splendidly supported the Salvation Army in this city, and also to acquaint the public with the true attitude of our organization towards the principle of federated charities.

R. SHAW, Major, Financial Organizer.

THE DEAN AND PLATONIC FRIENDSHIPS

To the Editor:—A short time ago we heard a great deal about birth control, and a number of our spiritual leaders strongly objected to it, giving their reasons that the Holy Scriptures commanded us to multiply and replenish the earth. I fear that command was not Divine. It was entirely unnecessary. Human nature will, or is able, to take care of that itself, and no doubt it was to counteract the evil that might arise from such teaching that Dean Quainton preached his notable sermon advocating platonic love and friendship, as opposed to the carnal.

Possibly from prehistoric ages the carnal emotion was overmuch in the foreground, hence Plato's plea for a spiritual love and friendship or moral restraint. Paul in his Epistles strongly condemns fornication. Evidently there was more or less of it, perhaps even in the church. The moral standard, according to Herodotus, was not very high in the Babylonian empire, in

OTTAWA'S ANSWER

To the Editor:—It is indeed a satisfying thought that "at long last," so states Mr. Norman McLeod in The Victoria Daily Times, the authorities at Ottawa have found an answer to Social Credit. It is, perhaps, paradoxical that, although they have had an opportunity of studying an experiment in so-called Social Credit at short range, they have had to obtain this answer from the Antipodes.

One is heartened to learn also that this "noteworthy document" comes to us after a thorough and impartial investigation. Although I, personally, have studied Social Credit, by which I mean Major Douglas variety and not the Aberhart edition thereof, I cannot call myself a definite Social Creditor, but do not fail to be irritated by the attacks made on the theory by people who obviously have not made even an elementary study of the matter, and on reading the opening of Mr. McLeod's article that a Royal Commission had made an exhaustive study of the question, I hoped that at last "long last," if you will, we would get a constructive criticism of the subject.

But—if the noteworthy document mentioned does not contain any more unanswerable logic than the superficial matter contained in the article, I'm afraid that Parliament Hill may still be left scratching its combined heads.

While it is impossible to discuss the principles of Social Credit in a letter, if even in one article, one must point out that the Royal Commission has omitted one important item apparently, and that is the "plus X" in the A plus B theorem. X equals profits. Even allowing the arguments as to the B payments, it is still difficult to see how the amount of money exemplified by A plus B can buy commodities whose retail price is A plus B plus X.

That, however, is not the most outstanding feature of this document. Under item 1 is mentioned "the basic failure underlying the whole doctrine of Social Credit," and this basic failure, we read, is "this neglect to suggest any dynamic change in the existing economic system."

The obvious question is "Does Ottawa wish a dynamic change in our economic system? and if so, what kind of a change? Fascism and Communism are the two outstanding examples of the dynamic change."

EXPLOITED

To the Editor:—Perhaps one of the most highly thought-of newspapers in the world, and according to a high Soviet official speaking recently in Moscow: "The best newspaper in the United States." The New York Times, its editors and correspondents, are known to the world over for their fairness, impartiality and trustworthiness in reporting the news of the world.

The statements of this great newsorgan's Moscow correspondent, Harold Denny, are so timely and interesting that they deserve to be known throughout the land. Of wages, in the land of the proletarian revolution (the land of Socialism in action), Mr. Denny says: "In 20 years the revolution has made so little progress toward emancipation—if it has not, indeed, retrogressed—that the Soviet worker is among the most exploited in the world. . . . And the state has proved that it can be as hard a taskmaster as any capitalist boss, and can enforce its will with a police power infinitely stronger than any coal or iron police or venal 'company' sheriff in the United States."

Surplus value, which is one of the foundation stones of Marx's philosophy—is exacted in the Soviet system too. In Russia that surplus value is being used to . . . build up a military establishment and to maintain a swollen army of bureaucratic functionaries who probably consume more of the workers' toll than the proprietor class of capitalism."

Speaking of freedom in the land of Bolshevism, Mr. Denny states: "The Soviet regime . . . has utterly eradicated freedom of expression on any except the most innocuous topics. . . . The result is an intellectual servility, a sycophancy, a hypocrisy that is simply degrading."

And yet Victoria Communists and Socialists have the proletarian bug to such an extent that they are at present lamenting that the Victoria Public Library has no Communist propaganda in its shelves in spite of the obvious fact that it has.

ANOTHER ARCHITECTURAL BLOT

To the Editor:—There is another and considerably more painful architectural effort that undergoes esthetic assimilation daily resting as it does amid the very precincts of the Parliament Buildings themselves, towering into the heavens, high and above Pandora's Casket in massiveness and proclaiming to the world the difference between common builder's brick construction on the one hand and the latest in stucco achievement on the other.

Bruce Hutchison perchance may also have viewed this abomination that may have gladdened the heart of Pecksniff, who so thoroughly recorded the details of Salisbury Cathedral by his drawing of the edifice from the south, southwest, west, northwest, north and so on around the compass and his artistic presentation of a powder magazine makes one wonder what kind of a picture we would get with the point of the compass wherein stands the smoke stack now mentioned.

I cannot understand, and I am sure B. H. will agree with me too, why such extraordinary fictitious atrocities are permitted to mar the landscape.

There is no reason why a harmonizing color wash should not be given this brick smoke stack, which as now stands is truly a blot on an otherwise handsome pile of buildings.

RADIO PROGRAMMES

To the Editor:—Lover of good music is to be congratulated on his timely letter. We hope it will do some good. Several letters we have written to the press in the last few years on the same subject have been a waste of time. In fact, we have come to the conclusion that the radio here is not for the reception of good music.

A friend who recently had traveled extensively, informed us that the proportion of good music on the radio was less in the Pacific northwest than in any other part of the civilized world. One has only to look at the European programmes, and the New Zealand and South African programmes, to see that they can get good music every evening. Here only the people who can listen in the afternoons are lucky.

Does Lover of Good Music know about KECA? Every night from 10 to 11 they put on good records. Last Saturday we had a treat. They played Beethoven's first piano concerto and Tchaikowsky's Italian Caprice. It was well worth while staying out of bed for. There is also KRSC from 7 to 7.45.

After all, lovers of good music buy radios and licenses as well as the other people. The latter can get what they want all over the dial every evening at any of the best orchestras in the world. It is a long symphony, so this will be a late night again for

ANOTHER LOVER OF GOOD MUSIC.

PROGRESSIVE BOOKS IN LIBRARY
To the Editor:—Mr. J. McDermott does not seem to appreciate the work done by progressive and anti-Fascist readers of the Victoria Library.

You would think that Mr. McDermott would know of the many proletarian books in the library which are there no doubt because of the efforts of his fellow progressives.

Every week when I get a chance to go to the library I enjoy very much the large number of liberal books there. The next time Mr. McDermott goes to the library I would advise him to look at the index of books under "Communism" or the "U.S.S.R." If he does not find enough books there explaining the great Bolshevik experiment to keep him reading for the rest of his life he must be a very fast reader.

"CANADIAN" IS A "SHE"

To the Editor:—It seems like my letter "Wharf Welcomes" needed a little explanation to the two Scotch gentlemen so needlessly annoyed, writing under the heading "To an Anti-bagpiper" and "Scot Replies."

First, they should re-read my letter to The Times. All reference as "being too much in the foreground" was strictly confined to the "Canadian Wharf," nothing personal—no prejudice whatever.

Life is too short—I am too busy for such petty thoughts. As for the gentleman's reference to "history," "courage," etc., why bring that up? It doesn't take any courage to write a letter to the editor.

"History" is in the past. "Life's history" is in the making, and to use "Scot Replies" own words—"live up to it, get busy."

It might give you gentlemen extra "pleasure" to know that "Canadian" is not a "he," but a "she."

I learned my courage to be a good Canadian by being the wife of a man who served Canada four years in the Great War. I know what it is to lack necessities of life through unemployment.

Courageous? Yes, I think we women are, and better Canadians and Christians for having gone through the experience.

Getting back to the subject on hand, I still think the bagpipes unsuitable for a Canadian wharf welcome.

Other Canadians I know voice these sentiments, but maybe they are not in the habit of writing to the editor.

Victoria High Names Prefects

Prefects at the Victoria High School have started their duties of watching school discipline for the coming year. When announcing the selection of prefects at the morning assembly yesterday, Principal Harry Smith mentioned that being chosen a prefect was one of the greatest honors that the school could bestow on any student.

Prefects have been named as follows:

Hospital Land Problem Studied

VANCOUVER (CP) — The board of governors of the Vancouver General Hospital announced Tuesday consideration would be given at their next meeting to a situation which arose when it was discovered the British Columbia government did not hold title to the land on which its new tuberculosis hospital here is situated.

RURAL NURSE

KEPT ACTIVE

Esquimalt Nursing Service Provides Helpful Aid in Health Work

Eighteen years ago a few public spirited people living in the Esquimalt rural district started a public health movement, which later developed into what is now known as the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service. To enjoy the benefits of this service it is necessary for the various school districts to vote a small sum each year for a school nurse. The amount of this tax on each individual varies, of course, with the value of his property, but it would not average more than 60 cents each year. Today the districts that support this service are Langford, Happy Valley and Goldstream, and under a different arrangement, Shirley and East Sooke.

This work could not have been carried on without the help of the Provincial Board of Health, and Dr. H. E. Young has always been ready to give encouragement, advice and financial assistance.

The value of the service is now completely realized in these districts and the organization is more firmly entrenched than ever. One nurse is employed and, in addition to acting as a school nurse with all that implies, she carries on many more activities, such as public health instruction, social service work, pre-school clinics and dental clinics.

FINE NURSES

The E.R.N.S. has been extremely fortunate in the nurses that have been employed. They have always, in addition to their necessary professional qualifications, been public spirited citizens with a real love of humanity, never sparing themselves in a position which calls for a vast amount of hard work, tact and an ability to absorb criticism whether it is constructive or otherwise.

The annual meeting of the Esquimalt Rural Nursing Service will be held on Thursday, October 28, at the Women's Institute Hall at Langford.

Dr. Amyot of Vancouver, assistant provincial health officer, will be one of the speakers at the meeting, and all residents of rural Esquimalt are invited to be present. A special invitation is extended to those residents of districts that do not at this time contribute to its support to come and learn what the organization is really doing.

T. T. Jarvis Is

Ward Two Head

T. T. Jarvis was elected president of Ward Two Saniall Liberal Association at the annual meeting in Grist's Hall last night. L. Fletcher was chosen first vice-president and R. Gray second vice-president.

C. Doyle was named secretary-treasurer, with the following as honorary officers: N. W. Whitaker, K.C., M.P.P.-elect, president; Alan Chambers, vice-president.

The following were elected as members of the executive committee: Mrs. E. E. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. S. Harris, Mrs. R. Gray, Mrs. L. Fletcher, Mrs. J. Hourigan, S. Britten, R. Noble, C. O'Regan, S. Gregory, J. Antrobus and G. Barker.

A short talk on Liberal policy was given by E. E. Bell, president of the central association. Annual reports were presented showing a year of considerable activity and satisfactory financial standing.

Students' Council

To Name Officers

The Victoria High School Students' Council president for the year will be elected Thursday when matriculation students of the school consider nominations which were made on Friday, Monday and Tuesday. The runner-up in the election will be vice-president and a secretary-treasurer will be elected from division 5 commercial students.

As soon as a students' council president is elected to lead the many school sport and social activities a number of the school clubs will spring into action.

Members of the students' council are expected to be elected shortly after the president. The council will consist of 11 grade 12 students, four grade 11 students, four grade 10 students and two grade 9 students.

As soon as the council is elected it is expected that official election of class presidents will be held, although a number of the classes have already elected officers.

Distrust Cause
Of World Unrest

NEW YORK (CP) — Distrust between individuals and between nations is one of the great causes of unrest in the world, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt asserted yesterday before a forum on current problems, sponsored by The New York Herald Tribune.

"If we can trust each other we can build the world of tomorrow on firmer ground," the wife of the United States President said.

Three thousand delegates are attending the forum, the seventh sponsored by the newspaper annually.

James G. Stahlman, president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, described what he called "recent efforts to control the American Press." The afternoon session was devoted to "the status of a free press in the world today."

"Never was there a more appropriate time in the history of the world to take stock on the status of a free speech and a free press," said Stahlman, "for a free press is the best guarantee of the maintenance of free speech."

"A free press does not mean my right as a newspaper publisher to publish whatever I please, to violate any laws, to invade personal privacy or to ignore the ethics of a great profession."

Tells of Work
Against Liquor.

The largely-attended meeting of Rockland Park W.C.T.U., held at the home of Mrs. George Holt, McGregor Avenue, Monday afternoon, included a number of visitors. Mrs. John Hall, the president, was in the chair, and was assisted by Mrs. F. W. Laing, vice-president, who led the devotional period.

The guest speaker, Rev. Bryce Wallace, in an interesting address on "The Temperance Outlook Today," gave encouraging information about the activities of temperance forces in many lands, which are doing very effective work in resisting the aggressive liquor traffic of today.

A report of the provincial convention held last month at Vancouver was read by Mrs. J. P. Hicks, in which mention was made of the far-reaching influence of the World W.C.T.U. Convention held in June at Washington, D.C.; also of the Canadian convention held this summer in Belleville, Ontario.

Delightful vocal numbers were given by Mrs. M. Hammond, Mrs. G. A. A. Hebdon and Mrs. Harry Youson. Refreshments were served, during which Mrs. Holt was assisted by Mrs. Clark and three young ladies.

The W.C.T.U. is again busy with the scientific temperance lessons in the Sunday schools which have enlisted much interest in recent years, as the lessons involve the writing of essays by the children for which awards are given.

St. John's Tea
Augments Fund

Over 200 guests attended the enjoyable guest tea held in St. John's Church schoolroom on Monday afternoon as a climax to the harvest thanksgiving celebrations. Arranged by the Ladies' Guild, the affair materially augmented the church funds.

Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick, who was present with Mrs. Chadwick, said a few words of welcome to the guests at the beginning of the afternoon. Rev. G. R. V. Bolster and Mrs. Bolster also assisting the president, Miss E. Denny, to greet the visitors. Tea was served from long tables attractively arranged with autumn flowers and foliage.

Mrs. Len Batchelor arranged the attractive musical programme which included pianoforte selections by Miss Rosemary Watson; vocal numbers by Mrs. F. Noel and Miss Peggy Moore, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. James Cameron, and dances by the following pupils of Miss Betty Clair: Betty Keatley, Marjorie Brewer, Irene Noel, Dorothea Rowlands and Jocelyn Logan.

Dan McCowan of Banff Shows Fine Slides to Club

Before an audience of about 500 members of the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon, Mr. Dan McCowan of Banff, naturalist, philosopher and humorist, gave one of his delightful lectures on the subject "Snowy Peaks and Flowery Meadows."

As on the occasion of his previous appearances before the club the speaker enchanted his audience with his humor, a typical example being: "Selling scenery is the finest thing in the world for a Scotsman, because you sell it but still have it."

He showed a series of about 200 beautiful slides from photographs made by himself and artistically colored by his wife, the subjects varying from mountain scenes in the Rockies and Selkirk, magnificent studies of Indians in all the panoply of feather headdress and beaded buckskin, to charming studies of the flora and fauna of Canada's mountain fastnesses.

His running commentary revealed an intimate understanding of the habits of the various animals. Of the grizzly bears he noted that after hibernating in the higher altitudes, to avoid changes in temperature all winter, all male grizzlies came out on approximately the same day in the Selkirk and the Rockies, the females without cubs shortly after, and the females and the concurrent year's cubs later still.

Some wonderful camera shots of moose, deer, Rocky Mountain sheep, ptarmigan, grouse, "whisky-jacks," and other denizens of the wild were also shown.

In connection with the flora, Mr. McCowan noted that natural history in North America had undergone a great change in the last 15 years, owing to the ubiquitous motor-car. "Then there were no dandelions in the Rockies; today dandelions are the greatest hitch-hikers in the world, their seed evidently being carried in the mud adhering to car wheels."

Of the change during the same period in the habits of birds, he humorously observed that "35 years ago in the foothills you would see hawks looking for ground squirrels for food. Today they sit along the telephone poles, waiting for the motor cars to kill the gophers."

Mrs. Harold L. Campbell presided and the musical part of the programme was in the artistic hands of Mrs. C. S. Beals, pianist, who brilliantly played Mendelssohn's "Duetto," the Mokrejs "Valsique" and the Chopin Waltz in G Flat.

Late Mrs. Dunsmuir's $2,000 To Be Used In New Wing

The Aged and Infirm Women's Home committee met yesterday afternoon at the home, with Mrs. W. L. Clay, the president, in the chair. Members present were: Mesdames Grant, Vincent, Heddle, H. Grant, Lister, Sabiston, Scott, Bean and the secretary, Mrs. A. D. Whittier.

The committee gratefully acknowledged a bequest of $2,000 from the estate of the late Mrs. James Dunsmuir, which the committee purpose to use to furnish the sunrooms in the new wing, now building, as a memorial to Mrs. Dunsmuir, who had always been a generous friend to the institution.

The Bishop Cridge Chapter I.O.D.E. have also offered to donate a small gift to the furnishing. Several friends have announced their intention of furnishing rooms in memory of departed relatives, hoping by this means to help some others who need the care and attention which is given in the home.

The present home is filled to capacity all the time, and a number of applications have already been received by the secretary from those who wish to enter as soon as the new wing is ready for occupancy.

Since the home was opened in 1897 nearly 500 inmates have been received and taken care of by the committee and staff.

The committee for the month will be Mrs. W. L. Clay, convener; Mrs. D. C. Sabiston and Mrs. D. Scott. The usual routine business was conducted and accounts ordered paid.

Three new councillors, Joy Savage, Joyce Harvey and Jessie Wood, were appointed at the monthly meeting of the Royal Bride Junior Chapter, I.O.D.E., held Saturday afternoon at headquarters in the Union Building. Davina Dingwall and Bernadette Corcoran were welcomed as new members.

It was decided to hold a tea on October 16 in the headquarters at 3 o'clock, when the guest speaker will be Aimee O. Heddle, who has returned from England, where she attended the Coronation festivities. Georgina Dowdall will convene the tea, with the assistance of Phyllis Dodsworth, Dorothy Peacock and Peggy Mulliner.

A successful report was made by Bunty Clark on the telephone bridge held before the summer holidays. Mrs. L. A. Genge gave an interesting talk on various points in Canada and the United States, which she had recently visited.

Mrs. P. E. Corby, regent, presided during the business meeting, and it was announced the next meeting would be held on Saturday, November 6.

Talks to League

MONTREAL (CP) — Lady Tweedsmuir stressed the value of "clear-headed and intelligent thinking" yesterday in an address before the Montreal subdivision of the Catholic Women's League.

Discussing the league's study clubs, the wife of the Governor-General said: "One of the ways the world is going to be helped is by clear-headed and intelligent thinking. There is so much thinking that is not clear, I urge you to take up your study clubs."

She lauded the work of the League in Canada. "You are helping those classes of the community which really need help," she said, "and you are doing it with warmth and kindness. That is what is needed—Understanding, sympathy and kindness."

Life's Dividends
Theme of Talk

"The Dividends of Life" is the subject chosen by Nellie L. McClung for her lecture to be given next Friday evening at 8 in the Emmanuel Baptist Church, corner Fernwood and Gladstone. Guiders of East
District Active

Encouraging reports were given at the meeting of Victoria East District, Girl Guide Association, held last night at the Oak Bay municipal council hall. Mrs. L. A. Genge, commissioner, presided.

Miss George, camp adviser, stated that all companies who had gone into camp had pronounced the new site ideal. The Rangers had enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Goward, Ten Mile Point, at various week-ends during the summer.

A warrant was issued to Miss K. Hamilton, as lieutenant in the Rangers. The meeting paid tribute to Miss Anna Lomas for her splendid work in the district during the last six years. The Joan of Arc Company and the Foul Bay Brownies will resume meetings this week, it was announced in the guiders' reports.

Mrs. Saxton White and Mrs. Lillie will assist with refreshments at the Chamber of Commerce on Guide Day, and Mrs. Lillie will also act as badge convener in the forthcoming badge tests. Committee and pack reports have been sent to guiders and should be returned early in November.

Mrs. Genge is in charge of the arrangements for an entertainment to be held in November. Mrs. Curtis Sampson has invited the district association to meet at her home on December 7.

Royalty in the News

Left is Queen Alexandrine of Denmark, who is recovering from a serious operation for an internal ailment, which caused grave alarm for a time. On the right is Princess Frederica Louise, 20-year-old daughter of the Duke of Brunswick, whose engagement to Prince Paul of Greece opens the possibility that she may one day be queen of Greece. Paul is brother of King George II and heir presumptive to the throne.

Federation Alters Its Name

Miss Nellie Redgrave Gives Report Of Convent Alumnae

A comprehensive report of the proceedings of the biennial convention of the Canadian Federation of Convent Alumnae was given by Miss Nellie Redgrave, national English vice-president, before St. Ann's Alumnae Association last night.

One of the important decisions at the convention was the deletion of the word Catholics from the name. Mrs. Harry T. Roessler, the president, explaining that while there was a considerable proportion of interdenominational membership in eastern Canada, the predominance in the west was remarkable. This, it had been explained to her, was because in the early days, British people who settled in the west were accustomed to the private school system in the Motherland, and people of all faiths sent their girls to convent schools. The Sisters in charge of these schools had assured her that the pupils of other denominations were remarkable for their loyalty to their Alma Mater.

According to Miss Redgrave's report, religious and lay delegates were present at the convention from 56 affiliated Alumnae associations from every province in Canada, who represented 18 different teaching communities. About 500 delegates and visitors had been present.

Miss Flora Hamilton Burns, president of St. Ann's Alumnae, was in the chair and made the presentation of the federation scholarship award to the Sisters of St. Ann and also, on behalf of the Alumnae, presented a copy of "Sing to the Sun" (Borden) to the school library.

Plans were discussed for a play to be presented some time after Christmas and also for a silver tea in November, the date to be announced later. Mrs. T. A. Farmer and Miss J. Cook will be the conveners.

FORBES-WEDDERBURN

At St. Mary's Church this afternoon Venerable Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunn united in the holy bonds of matrimony Shirley Elizabeth, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McLagan Wedderburn, Mitchell Street, Oak Bay, and Mr. John Douglas Forbes, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. David Torrance Forbes, Sunset Avenue.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

1. How is a bride's linen usually marked?
  2. Is it good taste for a girl who is marrying a divorced man to plan an elaborate wedding?
  3. May the cards announcing a broken-off wedding be printed?
  4. May a wedding ceremony be performed by two clergymen?
  5. During the mass celebrating a wedding, should the non-Catholics stand or kneel whenever the Catholics do?
- What would you do if—
- You are having a dinner in honor of an engaged couple, and want to seat them correctly—
- (a) Put them next to each other?
  - (b) Put them directly across the table from each other?
  - (c) Seat the girl on the right of the host and the man on the right of the hostess?

Answers

1. With her maiden initials.
  2. No, under those circumstances the wedding should be simple.
  3. Yes, for there is usually not enough time to have them engraved.
  4. This is often done.
  5. It is courteous.
- Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(c), for they are both guests of honor.

Juveniles To Open Season

The Juvenile branch of the Victoria Musical Art Society will hold its opening meeting of the season on Saturday at 3 p.m. in the Victoria Truth Centre. It is hoped there will be a large attendance of members and prospective members, to ensure an auspicious start for the new season.

Mrs. T. E. Robinson, a returned missionary from west China, will be the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Victoria Home League, at 2.30 tomorrow afternoon, in the Salvation Army Citadel, Broad Street. W.M.S. members of other churches will be welcomed, also mothers with small children who cannot attend the evening meetings.

Society

The many friends of Dr. J. M. Fowler will be pleased to learn that he is making favorable progress after undergoing an emergency operation yesterday morning at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Miss Minnie Lawson was the guest of honor at a kitchen shower arranged by Mrs. R. P. Lanning and Mrs. F. E. Oliver recently at the home of Mrs. Lanning, Lotus Avenue. Upon her arrival the bride-elect found awaiting her a large "tire" gaily decorated with silver and blue crepe paper, which contained the many useful gifts. In the reception rooms Michaelmas and yellow daisies were most effectively used, while in the dining room autumn blooms were prettily arranged. A buffet supper was served from a table centred with silver vases of varicolored sweet peas. Among the invited guests were Mrs. E. Oliver, Mrs. R. Longley, Mrs. E. Franch, Mrs. D. Stanger, Mrs. H. Hansen, Mrs. A. Hodgkinson, Mrs. W. Nunn, Mrs. H. Case and Misses Hazel Fenerty, H. McKim, G. Terry, G. McLaughlin, W. Cathcart, B. Goddard, J. Smart, H. Nathan, M. Longley, A. Beveridge and A. Nathan.

Mr. Dan McCowan, the speaker, and Mrs. C. S. Beals, the soloist, together with Dr. C. S. Beals, Mrs. Hugh McKenzie and Mr. Donald Fraser, were special guests of the Women's Canadian Club executive at tea yesterday afternoon following Mr. McCowan's lecture. Mrs. A. Carmichael and Mrs. E. W. MacKenzie-Grieve presided at the table. Others present were: Mrs. H. L. Campbell, Mrs. James Adam, Mrs. Archie Wills, Mrs. F. G. Aldous, Mrs. Charles Conyers, Mrs. H. Lasenby, Mrs. T. A. Johnston, Mrs. P. E. Taylor, Mrs. T. H. Johns, Mrs. B. Hethey, Mrs. Ian McCallum, Miss A. Russell, Miss L. Bowron, Miss A. M. Dean, Miss K. McLaren, Mrs. M. M. MacLean (Vancouver), Mrs. A. A. McKinnon, Mrs. H. D. Watson, Miss E. Morris (New Zealand), Mrs. P. Cunningham, Mrs. Collin Cummins, Miss J. McHutchison, Mrs. John A. Turner, Mrs. Catherine Watkins (Los Angeles), Mrs. A. H. Edwards, Mrs. C. Drummond-Tay, Mrs. C. H. French, Mrs. C. W. Bradshaw, Mrs. W. H. Trenholm-Dickson and Mrs. C. A. Hyslop.

Dr. C. N. Westwood, who has been a patient in the Royal Jubilee Hospital, returned home today.

For the Hardy-Knott wedding that will take place this evening, a number of out-of-town guests are in Victoria, including the bridegroom's parents, Rev. Frank W. Hardy and Mrs. Hardy of Ocean Falls, who are staying with Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Pringle, Gladstone Avenue; Mr. Frank W. Hardy Jr., of Vancouver, who will return to his home on the mainland on the midnight boat; Mr. Murdoch Mackenzie of Ocean Falls; Mrs. B. O. Pinder and Mrs. A. Lewis, both of Vancouver who are staying with Mrs. A. C. Charlton, Wellington Avenue; Rev. J. H. Warr and Mrs. Warr of Cloverdale who are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Jones, Pandora Avenue, and Mrs. H. M. Brandt and Mr. Gordon Brandt of Vancouver.

Miss Dorothy Baxandall, whose marriage will take place shortly, was the guest of honor last night when Miss Enid McConnell entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McConnell on Linden Avenue. The gifts were presented to the bride-to-be in a green basket, prettily decorated with mauve and yellow flowers. Games were played, prizes being won by Miss Olive Ormond and Miss Gertrude Haughton. For the buffet supper the lace-covered table was centred with a crystal bowl of white flowers, flanked by white candles in crystal sconces. Miss Rene McHutchison and Miss Davena Ritchie assisted the hostess, Miss Alice Dougan, Miss Louise Ormond, Mrs. A. H. Tuson, Mrs. H. M. Wright, Miss Mildred Baxandall, Mrs. G. A. Butler, Miss Phyllis Winterbottom, Mrs. L. Butler, Miss Patricia Holden and Miss Margaret Hemmingsen.

BIG NARCOTIC RING ROUND-UP

NEW YORK (AP)—Importation and distribution of from $5,000,000 to $25,000,000 worth of narcotics was laid today to 74 persons, including 12 women, indicted on charges of conspiracy to violate United States laws.

The indictment was returned and sealed September 29, but it was not opened until Tuesday to enable agents of the narcotic bureau under the general direction of Major Garland Williams to make wholesale arrests here consistent with raids in Houston, Galveston, New Orleans and elsewhere.

Joseph P. Martin, assistant federal attorney, said the charge of conspiracy covered all persons assertedly connected with the ring, from importers to peddlers. One of the agents who worked on the case estimated the total value of narcotics handled in the last two years at "not less than $5,000,000." Another agent said $25,000,000 "would not be a high estimate."

Long Sentence For Man Who Hurt Boy

MONTREAL (CP)—Alexis Winslow, from whose apartment police rescued Freddie Brown of Toronto, was sentenced Tuesday to 30 years' imprisonment on charges of assaulting the 10-year-old boy with intent to maim, and of gross indecency.

Winslow, a native of New Brunswick, pleaded guilty to both charges.

Police raided the Mansfield apartment and found the youngster, his body bruised and burned by searing wax and hot spoons. His throat was swollen, doctors said, and he was unable to swallow food.

ROYAL OAK

Games and community singing was enjoyed at the harvest Thanksgiving social held in St.

Michael's Parish Hall Monday evening. Greetings from St. Columbia Church, Strawberry Vale, were conveyed by Mr. E. Boydell. R. Butt, people's warden, spoke on behalf of St. Michael's congregation. Winners of the contests were Miss B. Cuthbertson and V. E. L. Goddard. Those taking part in the programme were: Miss Lois Hamblett, Mrs. L. R. Towler, Mrs. K. Mead-Robins, Rev. Canon S. J. Wickens, Rev. W. Allan, Messrs. W. R. Wood and J. Roberts.

For the third year a group is now being formed at Royal Oak for the purpose of studying public speaking, the proper use of words and the art of letter writing. This interesting course is conducted under the supervision of the night schools and is held every week. The first meeting will be held on October 14 at 8, and anyone interested is asked to attend.

Annual Motorcycle Hillclimb On Monday

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

NEXT STEP in the present tangle between the basketballers and the Amateur Athletic Union as far as British Columbia teams are concerned will take place next Saturday night when the annual meeting of the British Columbia A.A.U. is held at Vancouver. Writing in his column in The Vancouver Province, Bill Forst had the following to say on the so-called war:

"Both sides are claiming victory in the basketball war (yes, it and the Spanish thing are still going on) between the Canadian hoop association and the A. A. U. Walter Hardwick, president of the hoopers, says he has received word from the International Basketball Federation to the effect that said federation is prepared to accept the basketballers' affiliation direct; that means without the formality of acting through the A.A.U., as was the practice formerly.

Norm Porter, president of the B.C. A.A.U., says, on the other hand, that other amateur bodies will not recognize the independent hoopers and that American teams will not be permitted to mingle with the Canadian "outlaws." Just why a sports body should be outlawed because it chooses to run its own show, on a strictly amateur basis, mind you, we quite fail to see. There's really no reason why they must pay tribute to an extraneous and superfluous body just to satisfy a group of dictatorial officials, who have had things their own way for so long they haven't the sense to realize when they should retire—and gracefully. It'll all be aired once more at the annual meeting of the B.C. A.A.U., in the Hotel Georgia next Saturday. Bring your gas masks."

The books closed Saturday on a big-league baseball season that had "everything." It brought joy to the magnates as they watched bigger and better attendances; it brought sorrow to virtually every manager in both leagues as their clubs were swept by an unprecedented epidemic of injuries. It had its expected in the pennant conquest of the New York Yankees in the American League, and the not altogether unlooked-for drive of the Giants to the National League flag.

And it had its big surprises in the fine showings of Boston Bees and Chicago White Sox, the complete bust of the Cincinnati Reds, and the continued inability of Boston's $1,000,000 Red Sox to show any kind of an anticipated return on Tom Yawkey's investment.

Individually, there was the batting work of Ducky Medwick and Joe DiMaggio, two of the classic outfielders that ever stepped down the pike, and of Charley Gehring, the strong, silent second baseman of Detroit Tigers. There was the pitching perfection of Carl Hubbell; of Lefty Gomez, who ran his comeback into one of the best seasons of his career; and of a big-eared rookie, Cliff

ACE PILOTS TO TEST GRADE AT MT. DOUGLAS

Riders From Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle Will Participate

Starts at 2 o'Clock

The moaning drone of highly geared machines will shrill over the countryside Monday afternoon when the Victoria Motorcycle Club stages its 17th annual Thanksgiving Day hill climb on the treacherous grade at Mount Douglas, starting at 2.

Victoria motorcycle aces are busy this week "souping" up their iron steeds so that they will have plenty of power. For the last 10 years this event has grown in popularity, until today it is considered one of Vancouver Island's major sport attractions, never failing to produce many thrills for the large crowds that attend.

The start this year has been lengthened, so that more speed can be attained before the machines hit the bottom for the uphill grind. Although the weather has not improved the surface, the hill is in fairly good condition, but rougher than in former years. No attempt has been made to smooth out the bumps, which should make it that much more interesting from the spectators' standpoint, and will also demand more skill on the part of the riders.

PROGRAMME

This year the programme will include three events. The first is a novice test for riders who have not won a place in any hill climb; the club championship for possession of the Paul Girardau Challenge Trophy, and a third event for the island championship, open to all riders. The F. W. Francis Challenge Trophy will be at stake in this contest.

Each year more riders come over from the mainland to participate in this meet, and two years ago Louis Kaelin of the Seattle A.M.A. Club ran off with the island championship. Kaelin was unable to defend his title last Thanksgiving Day, Bob Shanks being the winner, with Bill Esplay a close second. Kaelin will view the meet as a spectator this year, being unable to ride, due to injuries he suffered recently in a racing crack-up.

Larry Lane, another star from Seattle, however, will represent the Sound City. Although not as spectacular as Kaelin, Lane has quite a reputation for fast, straight rides on any kind of hill surface, and should make a good showing. Several entries are expected from the Vancouver club. A strong squad of local riders should make things plenty hot for any outsiders competing.

Bill Esplay, one of the best riders in the local pack, is in England, and will not be on hand to defend the club championship he won last year.

The meet will be staged, rain or shine, officials announced today. The club will wind-up the day with a dance at the Crystal Garden in the evening.

Joe Louis Will Appear in Film

HOLLYWOOD—Joe Louis, world heavyweight boxing champion, is going to turn motion picture actor. He was signed today to co-star in a full-length picture with an all-negro cast. The film, entitled "The Spirit of Youth," will be made by an independent concern.

CHINESE ACE IN VICTORY

Peter Lou Poy Defeats W. Browne-Cave in Table Tennis Battle

Playing a brilliant game throughout, Peter Lou Poy, 17-year-old ping pong star, led the Pioneer Fruit Company to a 7 to 3 decision over the Royal Arcanum in yesterday's table tennis headliner in the senior division.

Poy upset W. Browne-Cave, the city champion, in straight sets, 21-15, 21-13.

McIntosh left the tables with a drawn match against the Wildcats, while the Liberty Cafe also drew with Mount Douglas. Scoring the most decisive win of the evening, Louis Nelson's Garage blanked the Meteors. The score was 10 to 0. Musketeers defeated the Coach Lines 8 to 2.

Teams and individual scores follow: Royal Arcanum-Browne-Cave 1, Crombie 1, McCleure 0, Parks 0, Brown-Cave and Crombie 1, McCleure and Parks 0. Pioneer Fruit-H. Lowe 0, P. Lou Poy 3, G. Love 2, D. Sam 2, H. Lowe and G. Love 0, Lou Poy and Sam 1.

BALL PLAYERS ARE DRAFTED

Major League Clubs Call On 16 Stars From Minor Circuits

NEW YORK—Stalemated for the second year in a row by New York's pennant monopoly, 11 major league clubs have drafted 16 minor league players in preparation for the pursuit of the Yankees and Giants in 1938.

The Giants and Yankees with more important business at hand, didn't get a man at last night's draft meeting. The Boston Bees drafted three and the Phillies, Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox two each. The Detroit Tigers and Chicago Cubs took one apiece.

Some of the players are veterans, like Rupert Thompson, jaunty outfielder the Bees sent to San Diego with Jim Chaplin for Vince DiMaggio last spring. Thompson comes back to the Bees with a .327 batting average and a collection of 16 home runs. Cincinnati and St. Louis Browns got one man each. The Reds drafted Outfielder Nino Bongiovanni from Portland in the Pacific Coast League. He hit .336 with 11 home runs in 1937. George McQuinn of Newark goes to the Browns.

JOSEPH GOULD DIES

TORONTO—Joseph H. Gould, 68, "grand old man of Canadian cricket," died at his home here yesterday of pneumonia after a week's illness. Gould, past president of the Toronto Cricket Umpires' Association, contracted the disease when he refereed the season's final cricket match during a drizzling rain a week ago.

Paul Rowe Gets Some Tips From Pro Star

Although his Victoria friends may not recognize him, the chap in the above picture with the big 33 on his chest is Paul Rowe, former star of local English rugby fifteens. Rowe is now a full-fledged regular of the University of Oregon's team in the Pacific Coast Football Conference. He is seen getting a few pointers on ball-grip from Mike Mikulak, former Oregon sensation and now a professional player with a Chicago squad, who is coaching the Webfoot backfield. Rowe is wearing the famous pads used by Mikulak while playing in pro ranks. Last Saturday Oregon scored a smashing victory over Stanford at Eugene. In commenting on the play L. H. Gregory, sports editor of The Portland Oregonian, had the following to say about the performance of the Victoria boy: "Paul Rowe looked like a great full-back in the making with his speedy starts and his hard line hammering."

DUD MILLER TO WORKOUT

Port Alberni Scrapper Starts Training Here For Bout Saturday Night

To prepare for his six-round bout with Ernie Swartz, Vancouver, at the Tillikum gym on Saturday evening, Dud Miller, smart little featherweight from Port Alberni, arrived in Victoria today. Miller will workout at the gym tonight, along with several local boys, starting at 7.30.

Swartz appeared on a card at Seattle last night and earned himself a smart four-round draw with Ray Price, clever Seattle puncher, and former golden gloves champion. Although knocked down twice, Swartz came back strong to get a draw.

Matchmaker Nick Lyster announced today he had arranged two of his three four-round bouts. In the opener, Tiny Speller will engage Rolly Smith. Another match will put George Lowe, Chinese battler, up against George Haslam.

Another six-round will be between Johnny Hall, Seattle welterweight, and Julius Troll, Vancouver. The third six-round engagement has still to be arranged. Charlie Williams, Duncan Indian, who was scheduled to have fought, has withdrawn owing to his being out of condition. Lyster plans to match a pair of lads from Vancouver and Seattle.

Badminton Club Starts Season

The official opening of the badminton season for the Civil Service Sports Club was held at the Drill Hall on Menzies Street recently. Seventy members of the badminton club turned out for the first evening of play.

Don Fish and Ted Simmons, who are to coach the Civil Service Sports Club this season, staged an exhibition game for the benefit of those present. They gave a brilliant performance which was much enjoyed.

Refreshments were served later in the evening. The Civil Service Sports Club will act as hosts to one or more teams in the fourth division of the Lower Vancouver Island Badminton League this season. Friendly matches for non-team members will be arranged with other clubs in the district. The badminton committee of the sports club for the year is composed of the following: J. Wells, chairman; Miss I. Summers, Miss M. Freeman, A. Pearson and C. Axhorn.

Two Stars Beaten In U.S. Golf Play

Maureen Orcutt and Clarrie Tiernan Eliminated From National Tournament

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—Favorites of America's feminine golfing ranks, with two glaring exceptions, advanced yesterday in the first round of the 41st annual scramble for the national championship.

Removed to the sidelines after the 18-hole eliminations were Miss Maureen Orcutt, of Haworth, N.J., runner-up a year ago to England's Pamela Barton, and Miss Clarrie Tiernan, the youthful Irish champion.

While these outstanding participants fell back, such favored contenders as Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page, medalist for two years hand-running; Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, six times winner of the crown; Marion Milley and Kathryn Hemphill, semi-finalists in 1936, and Fatty Berg, of Minneapolis, moved into the second round.

Mrs. George D. Brantley, of Jacksonville, Fla., pulled the day's biggest surprise when she ousted Miss Orcutt, 1 up. Miss Tiernan, from Ballyva, was beaten 5 and 4 by Mrs. William E. Shepherd, of Los Angeles.

STIFF MATCHES

Philadelphia's Mrs. Vare and South Carolina's Miss Hemphill needed all of their skill to survive the initial test. Mrs. Vare outlasted Dorothy Traung, of San Francisco, to win, 2 and 1. Miss Hemphill got a hard earned 2 and 1 victory over Helen Sigel, of Oreland, Pa. Miss Milley beat Virginia Fox, of Hershey, Pa., 6 and 4.

Youthful Miss Berg, the Minnesota schoolgirl, matched par figures over 15 holes in turning back Mrs. Normal M. Lack, of Wilmington, Del., 4 and 3.

Mrs. Opal S. Hill, Kansas City, took a 4 and 3 decision from Mrs. Burt Weil, of Cincinnati. Miss Hill's second round opponent is the tournament's only other former champion, Marion Hollins, of Santa Cruz, Calif., who manufactured a 3 and 1 triumph over Mrs. Wright D. Goss, Jr., of Springfield, N.J.

In a late day match Marion McDougall, of Portland, Ore., erased Mrs. Lillian K. Zeck, of Niles, Ill., 5 and 3.

The Canadian Scottish senior B and intermediate rugby teams will practice at Macdonald Park tomorrow evening at 7.30 in preparation for a practice game on Saturday.

English Eleven In Soccer Win

BLACKPOOL, England—Representatives of the English Football League triumphed 3 to 0 over an Irish League eleven before a crowd of 20,000 spectators here today. The Irishmen had previously been defeated 3 to 2 by a Scottish team, which also won a 1 to 0 decision over the English League.

ORILLIA AND CALGARY MEET

Box Lacrosse Squads Clash in Canadian Semi-final Playoff Tonight

CALGARY—Orillia Terriers, who with high-powered stick-handling and yelps of victory have fought down all eastern opposition—meet the Calgary Rangers, Alberta champions, in the semi-final of the Dominion lacrosse championship at High River tonight.

One more victory is all the eastern champions need to continue on to the coast to meet the New Westminster Salmonbellies. A loss will send them homeward and the Rangers will continue over the mountains to the coast.

The arena, scene of many thrilling hockey battles, but never before used for lacrosse, will house 1,500 spectators. Every seat is expected to be occupied and all standing room permitted by fire marshals' rule. Extra floodlights have been installed and hard-packed floor provided.

To Show Moving Pictures at Y

All members of the Y.M.C.A. track and field and swim clubs are asked to attend a meeting to be held at the Y.M.C.A. Friday evening. Presentation of ribbons won at the summer championships will be made and moving pictures of the tracksters and swimmers in action will be projected by Claud Young.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE

All last year's players of the Oakland's Aces are asked to be on hand at Spencer's Park, near Oaklands School, at 10.15 Saturday morning. Any others interested are invited to turn out.

Bays Will Have Stronger Squad

Ottawa Sports Editor Passes

NEW YORK—Edward Baker, widely-known sports editor of The Ottawa Citizen, died here early today following a heart attack. Baker, internationally known as a turf authority and official, arrived in New York yesterday to cover the world baseball series starting today between New York Yankees and the Giants. He was stricken shortly after reaching his destination.

NEWARK TIES UP PLAYOFF

Defeats Columbus For Third Straight Time in Baseball Series

COLUMBUS, O.—Newark Bears tied up the little world series at three games each last night, defeating Columbus Red Birds 10 to 1 in the sixth contest behind the fine hurling of Spurgeon Chandler, former New York Yankee.

A crowd of 4,430 watched the Bears win their third straight here, after losing three in a row on the New Jersey diamond. The Red Birds have scored but two runs in the 27 innings of the three games here.

Chandler, tall right-hander released to the Bears by New York Yankees with a sore arm after he had won seven and lost three for the American League champions, told manager Oscar Vitt he was "ready to go," and he lived up to his promise.

He throttled the Columbus bats with seven blows, three of them doubles by first baseman Dick Sibert, who scored the lone Columbus run. Sibert walked in his fourth time up for a perfect night at bat.

Fourteen hits, including four doubles and two triples, rattled off the Newark bats. Four Columbus hurlers were unable to stop the drive.

Newark (IL) 10 14 1
At Columbus (AA) 1 7 3
Batteries: Chandler and Hershberger; Cooper, Lanier, Heusser, Schroeder and Crouch.

GAINS WINNER BY KNOCKOUT

Veteran Canadian Negro Heavyweight Finishes Rutz in Second Round

LONDON—Larry Gains, Toronto negro heavyweight, Monday knocked out Charles Rutz, French heavyweight champion, after 2 minutes 14 seconds in the second round of a scheduled 10-round bout at Earl's Court. Gains weighed 207½ and his opponent 191½.

Gains, though slower than he used to be, showed glimpses of his old form in contrast with Rutz, who fought crudely and lacked ring craft.

There will be a meeting of the badminton conveners of the A.Y. P.A. in St. Mark's Hall Monday, October 18 at 8 to elect a badminton convener for the Victoria Local Council and arrange games for the season.

Fast Light Fifteen to Defend Barnard Cup When Rugby Season Opens

A much younger fifteen than last year, embodying a fast-breaking pack and a smart ball handling backfield will provide the scoring punch when the J.B. A.A. senior rugger opens their defence of the Barnard Cup a week from Saturday.

"I expect to have a strong and well-balanced squad when we swing into action this year," declared Bert Buller, coach and manager today.

Although the personnel of the scrum has not been definitely decided, several of last year's players are virtually sure of places. The list of probabilities for the pack at the present time includes: Doug Bray, who played in the front rank last year; Bob Mair, Jack Rutan, a veteran at the forward game; Frank and Cyril Doherty, who saw action with John Baxter's Fifth Regiment intermediates, and Petticrew, veteran husky of the rowing clubbers pack.

FAST BACKFIELD

The backfield has plenty of new and fast material with the addition of Jack Ferguson and Les Bridge. Ferguson made a name for himself in local rugby circles before going south to attend Williamette University in Salem last year, and has that extra weight and speed which should make him one of the men to watch in the Bay's three-quarter line as Ken Fleming was last year.

Les Bridge saw service at Victoria High School with the first stringers and afterwards played for the Fifth Brigade.

Buller expects Ferguson will play either first or second inside, while Bridge will probably hold down a wing or inside position.

STIFF TO PLAY

"Buzz" Brown has the necessary qualifications for any position on the ball-handling line, and will feature in the backfield prominently. Out of uniform for the second part of the season last year, Wally Stipe, the Bays' erstwhile scrum half, will be back at the end of the feed-line again this season. Bill Halkett will flash his blond head among the three-quarters in as yet an undecided position, while Langdon, who took over the scrum half place when Stipe went out last year, will complete Buller's machine. The full back position is still open.

There are about 22 players turning out to practices at the present time. The Bays will work out tonight and tomorrow night at 6 at Macdonald Park.

Mixed Foursome At Oak Bay Club

On Thanksgiving Day, Monday, October 11, a mixed foursome will be played at the Victoria Golf Club, consisting of 18 holes medal play, with half the combined handicaps allowed. Players will choose their partners and opponents and arrange for their starting times. Post entries will be accepted.

Hints Given For Protecting Homes Against Fire Loss

Endorsement of Plan Should Be Backed By Action Says
Fire Commissioner

Throughout Canada Fire Prevention Week will be observed from October 3 to 9.

Fire Prevention Week is set apart for national observance in order that once yearly the attention of the people may be directed to the tremendous loss of life and property by fire and in order that public sentiment may be crystallized into action.

In everyday life people are too prone to put off the things they actually do not have to do.

"Yes that is a good thing and well worth doing, but I will do it just a little later," they say. In club life, and there are good ones, there is too much of a disposition to endorse things that are worthy, but let someone else do it.

"Now public endorsements are good. We need them to aid this great work, but what we need more is the individual interest and personal effort of everyone. We need men and women who will work and not wait for results," says the Dominion Fire Commissioner.

"The causes of fire are comparatively simple. That is the majority of them are. The chimney, stoves, furnace, and smoke pipes or heating equipment ranks first. Then comes electricity or other means of lighting, followed by poor housekeeping, rubbish, smoking, matches, and various careless personal habits. The common hazards enumerated cause more than half of the fire loss, and they are strictly preventable.

"Who would admit that they could not safeguard the common fire hazards in their home if they chose to use their intelligence in that direction? It is safe to say not one would make such an admission. Anyone of average intelligence can avert the danger from his in their home."

The following suggestions are made by the Fire Commissioner as those which experience has found practical and worthy of your most careful attention.

"First—If you use gas plates or portable stoves, is the support for them of incombustible material or protected by incombustible material such as metal or asbestos? If not, heat radiation will frequently cause ignition.

"Second—Are you using flexible rubber tubing instead of permanent metal piping for connections to gas mains? Rubber tubing deteriorates rapidly, permitting gas to escape and connections may easily be broken, with the possibility of explosion and fire. If absolutely necessary to use flexible tubing, be sure the shut-off valve is located in the solid connection of piping only and not at the stove.

"Third—If you have one of the old type portable gasoline or similar type stoves about the house, the simplest precaution is to get rid of it, as sooner or later it is apt to cause trouble. If absolutely necessary to have one of these burners use the coal-oil type, it is much safer, and while we speak of coal oil, never start or hurry a stove fire with it. It is certain disaster if you do.

"Fourth—Is the electric pressing iron kept on a metal stand when not in use, and are all connections in A-1 condition? It is a wise precaution to have a service light installed in connection with these irons to indicate when the current is off or on.

"Fifth—Do you ever leave the electric iron connected while answering the telephone? More fires are caused from this than any other electrical cause.

"Sixth—Do you place electric radiators, glow lamps and other types of portable electric heaters where they may come in contact with combustible material?

"Remember all heating devices are potential fire breeders and require constant care."

Rubbish Should Not Be Stored

Careless housekeeping in permitting the accumulation of inflammable litter and rubbish was responsible for 26,000 fires during the last three years in Canada.

The careless practice of dumping litter of all kinds in basements, or unused rooms, or around buildings, is not only a serious fire hazard, but is unsanitary and disgracefully unsightly. It is a time-honored saying that "cleanliness is next to godliness."

Regular inspection should be made of one's home and place of business. It will pay a handsome dividend in safety and saving.

All premises should be kept clean. It will reflect credit upon the householder and make a better impression upon others, besides eliminating a serious fire hazard.

FIRST AID FOR FIRE INJURIES

Home Treatment May Often Save Life in Case of Burns

Many a life has been saved as a result of modern "First Aid" treatment.

The kit of the camper or the Boy Scout is not complete without its tape, its gauze and its antiseptics. Immediate treatment, when the victim is far from skilled medical assistance, forestalls countless amputations and prolongs the days of thousands of accident victims.

The home itself will be thus supplied, if its occupants are as wise and cautious as they should be.

"First Aid" has its place, too, in the protection of the house against fire. Yet how deplorably small is the number of residences thus equipped.

The incipient fire has all the potentialities of the conflagration. If it cannot be stamped out or if the water bucket does not suffice, there is still a way to prevent its spread, provided the home has been equipped with small fire extinguishers.

An old saying among those who deal with this question is that "all fires are small at the start." If caught in time, the number of fires that get beyond control may be very materially reduced.

"First Aid" is a present-day necessity in the protection of the home against fire no less than in the safeguarding of life against cuts and scratches and burns.

Foolish Habits Are Dangerous

Lack of Thought in Handling Fire Has Caused Tragedy to Many People

The subject of personal habits is a very ticklish one, one which needs careful handling. It is an old saying that "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread," and in this case we will take the fool's chance. In fact, that is what many people are doing in their careless personal habits with fire every day of their lives. Perhaps the most effective way to approach the matter is to relate the results of some personal habits in other people, as people generally like to hear about the other fellow.

A man dropped a cigarette in a rubbish pile in a rooming house and burned to death 11 people.

A man dropped his cigarette in a couch in the lobby of a hotel. Fire resulted at 3 a.m. and resulted in the death of four people.

A mother in one city, for the 500th time perhaps, started a fire with coal oil. The fire she started burned to death three children besides herself.

A man dropped a match on a garage floor, walked on and left it. A six-year-old child found it and ignited her clothing, which resulted in burns that caused her death a few hours later.

Man attempted to sleep and smoke at the same time—result, he set bed afire, was overcome with smoke, and removed in an unconscious state. Only the timely arrival of the fire department saved him from being cremated alive.

Some grown-ups placed strike-anywhere matches on kitchen table. Two small children acted upon the implied suggestion and carried some to their playhouse, innocently started a fire. Result, little boy burned fatally.

House Members Will Be Sworn

Many Changes in Personnel of New B.C. Legislature Meeting October 26

Members of British Columbia's Nineteenth Legislature, elected
June 1, will be sworn in by Major W. H. Langley, Clerk of the House, just before the first session of the new assembly opens on October 26.

Twenty-nine members from the last Legislature will renew their oath of responsibility. Most of the other 19 will be sworn for the first time, although there are a few who are coming back to the House after an absence of one or two terms.

The election changed the personnel of the assembly consid-
ment with only a slightly reduced majority. Among the 19 new members are 7 Liberals, 8 Conservatives and 4 C.C.F.

Liberals who will have their baptism this session are Louis Le Bourdais (Cariboo), Glen Braden (Peace River), Harry Johnston (Revelstoke), Captain
C. R. Bull (South Okanagan), Alderman Fred Crane (Vancouver Centre) and Alderman W.
T. Straith (Victoria). J. M.
Bryan (Mackenzie) and E. C.
Henniger (Grand Forks-Greenwood) previously sat in the House.

Five of the Conservatives will take seats in the House for the first time. They are: Dr. Frank Patterson (Dewdney), the leader;
L. H. Eyres (Chilliwack), J. A.
Paton (Vancouver-Point Grey), Alderman J. D. Hunter (Vicentor), and E. V. Finland (Esquimalt). For this party, R. L.
Maitland, K.C. (Vancouver-Point Grey), Herbert Anson (Vicentor) and Capt. Macgregor Macintosh (The Islands) have had previous experience.

The C.C.F. group of 7 has 4 experienced hands: E. E.

WOULD PROBE
N.Y. BOXING

NEW YORK — The New York State Athletic Commission opened a big investigation yesterday and wound up confronted with a threat to get investigated itself.

After confirming that he was correctly quoted in an Associated Press story of September 20, in which he said Chairman John J.
Phelan and Bill Brown of the commission "must have a personal interest" in Mike Jacobs's 20th Century Club, Promoter Jimmy Johnston stalked out of the hearing and issued a statement.

The statement, approved by Johnston, but made under the name of his counsel, Newbold Morris, said:
"I will lead an organization to call on the governor to undertake a sweeping reorganization of the state boxing commission, in the same thorough fashion that he overhauled the state racing commission. This would give the followers of boxing a new deal."

When the roll was called again today sticks were handed out.
Two practices a day will start Friday.

Later in the week special tryouts will be given a handful of rookies of Boston Bruins. The best of them will be taken to the Bruins' training camp after going through performances under the eyes of Coach Fred ("Bun") Cook and Goalkeeper Tiny Thompson.

The three members of Americans' first string line, Art Charman, Sweeney Schriener and Lorne Carr, were at the skating practice yesterday and will be used by Dutton to compare his rookies.

Among the amateurs were three members of North Battleford last year's western Canada champions, wingmen Clarence Shillington and Cam Burke and defenceman Walt McIntyre. With Dave Duchak, their pivot, Shillington and Burke moved to Sud-bury, Ont., during the summer.

Duchak was expected to report today, along with Doug Norris, a former Prince Albert player now living in Trail, B.C.

The Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion will hold its first concert of the winter season on Friday evening in the clubrooms. Dave Croston, chairman of the entertainment, released the programme as follows: Piano solo, Miss Elsie Friend; song, Mrs. Carver; tap dance, Miss D.
Caulbet; magic, J. Gove; violinist,
B. White; song, Mrs. Badger; song, Miss D. Finn; comic song, T.
Obee; song, A. Lea; comic song, R. Smith. Miss Elsie Friend will be the accompanist.

The Youth Group Band and the Y.P. Singing Company will give instrumental and vocal selections.

A meeting of the 20th Century Young Liberal Association was held last night in Liberal headquarters. Regular business of the evening included a discussion of the constitution. At the conclusion of business, the meeting adjoined to the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company Limited, where R. L. Mayhew conducted them on a tour through the plant.
Following the visit, the members returned to the headquarters, where refreshments were served by the Misses MacKay, Wilson and Fairclough.

Reginald Hammond entered into the second month and second part of his series of lectures on music appreciation at Victoria High School this week. Last month Mr. Hammond took up the first part of his lectures, which dealt with the string part of a symphony orchestra. He explained the uses in the orchestra of the 1st violin, 2nd violin, viola, cello, and double bass. This month Mr. Hammond will deal with the wood-wind instruments, and will explain the use of the flute, piccolo, clarinet, bass clarinet, oboe, English horn, bassoon and contra-bassoon.

Thief Steals Woman's Purse

Mrs. Pauline Richardson Robbed as She Walked On Tillicum Road

Accosted by a man as she was walking along Tillicum Road last night about 8, Mrs. Pauline Richardson, 3041 Tillicum Road, was robbed of her purse containing $12.

In describing the robbery to Saatch police, Mrs. Richardson said the man had not spoken a word as he snatched her purse when she fell as she fled from him.

Mrs. Richardson said she was walking south on Tillicum Road, towards Gorge Road, and when she neared Vincent Avenue she thought she saw the shadow of a man in the dim light.

As she neared the spot she looked behind and was just in time to see a short, stocky man with his hand raised and something in it, as if he was about to strike her.

She screamed and ran, but in her haste she failed to notice a ditch at the roadside in which she tripped and fell.

Close behind her, the thief grabbed her purse and sped away down Walter Avenue. Mrs. Richardson was able to provide police with little description of the man except to say he was dressed in a trench coat and wore a light colored cap.

The thief was also seen by a man on Walter Avenue, who heard the scream and a minute later saw a man running down the street in front of his home.

Chief Allan Rankin and members of the Saatch police force were called and despite a thorough search last night and this morning were unable to find any trace of the man or the purse he stole.

Dean Quainton Sails Tomorrow

He and Mrs. Quainton Will Take Passage From Montreal For London

Dean C. S. Quainton and Mrs.
Quainton, who left Victoria two weeks ago for eastern Canada, will sail from Montreal tomorrow aboard the freight and passenger liner Manchester Commerce.

They chose a small ship that carries only few passengers and they will be about 10 days at sea, disembarking in London.

During the last week the Dean preached a mission at the Church of St. James the Apostle in Montreal, where Rev. F. K. Wilkinson is rector. Mr. Wilkinson was formerly rector of Christ Church in Vancouver.

The Dean and Mrs. Quainton will remain in London for some weeks before taking up permanent residence. Towards the end of October the Dean has an engagement to preach in St. Paul's Cathedral.

Repeat Protest Of Timber Sales

The selling of Crown grant timber lands to Japanese interests drew further strong protest from the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion last night when members gathered for a general meeting and reiterated their original stand against such transactions. It was decided to enlist the aid of local organizations and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association to give added strength to the cause.

It was pointed out by L. E.
Good, chairman of the committee investigating the matter, that some control should be exercised over these lands so the timber could not be exported to the Orient when it was needed in island mills.

The meeting maintained that other timber interests on the island are under provincial jurisdiction, but the owners of these former Crown grant lands have a free hand in exporting timber from them.

Brooklyn Gets Leo Durocher

NEW YORK—Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday traded four players—outfielder Johnny Cooney, second baseman Jimmy Bucher, third baseman Joe Stribb and pitcher Roy Henshaw to St.
Louis Cardinals for shortstop
Leo (Lippy) Durocher. No cash was involved.

The deal was the first step in the long rumored wholesale shakeup of the Cardinals, of which Durocher was a star member for five seasons.

Canon Joshua Hinchcliffe will speak at a meeting of Victoria Conservative Association executive in the Campbell Building tonight at 8. He will discuss proposed legislation dealing with teachers in the province.

OBITUARY

RICHARD HARVEY DAVIDSON

Funeral services for Richard Harvey Davidson, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Davidson, 2542 Fernwood Road, were held this morning. Rev. G. R. V. Bolster officiated and interment was in Royal Oak Burial Park.

GRACE ALMA BICKFORD
The death occurred suddenly yesterday at Rest Haven of Mrs.
Grace Alma Bickford, wife of Herbert Bickford of Saanichton, aged 26. Born in Winnipeg, Mrs.
Bickford came to Victoria at the age of three years and she attended the Willows School and the Victoria High School. She moved to Saanichton after her marriage and her sudden passing will come as a shock to her many friends and associates. She is survived by her husband, one son, Barry, twin sister Mrs. Mabel L. Shriner, Tod Inlet, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. H.
Miller, Saanichton. The remains are resting at the chapel of the Sands Mortuary Ltd., and funeral arrangements will be announced later.

JOHN HENRY RICHARDSON
In the presence of a large congregation of relatives and friends, funeral services for the late John Henry Richardson took place at the Masonic Hall, Saanichton, yesterday afternoon. Worshipful Master W. H. E. Dinsmore conducted the service, after which the members of North Saanich branch of the Canadian Legion deposited a poppy on the casket as they filed passed. As the remains were being borne from the hall to the waiting hearse, Bro.
Capt. C. R. Wilson played the Lament, "Dark Loch Nagar." The following members of the A.F.
and A.M. acted as pallbearers: Wors. Bros. T. T. Hutchison and
A. R. Sansbury; Bros. Geo.
Michell, W. Thorne, J. N. Wood and Geo. Foster. The body was forwarded to Seattle for cremation.

ARCHIBALD M. AITKEN
Funeral services for Capt.
Archibald M. Aitken, who passed away yesterday morning at the Jubilee Hospital, will be held tomorrow afternoon. The remains will be conveyed by the S. J.
Curry & Son Funeral Home to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at 1.30, where services will be conducted at 2.30 by Rev.
Peter McNabb. Interment will be in the family plot in Colwood Burial Park.

LIEUT. COL.
CHARLES B. SCHREIBER
Many sorrowing friends and a wealth of beautiful flowers marked the funeral of Lieut.-Col.
Charles B. Schreiber yesterday.
Rev. H. M. Bolton conducting the service. A delegation from the Canadian Legion was present.
The casket was draped with the Union Jack. The following acted as pallbearers: A. E. Dunlop, W. S. A. Watson, Col. Lorne Ross,
G. E. Pulham, P. R. Blaikie and E. N. Mitchell. The remains were laid at rest in Royal Oak Burial Park.

C.I.O. Sees Gain In Detroit Vote
Labor Group Nominates Candidates For Mayorality and Council Seats

DETROIT (AP)—The committee for Industrial Organization, successful in nominating its candidates for mayor and city councilmembers in the non-partisan primary Tuesday, claimed a "substanc-ial victory" today in its first major political campaign.

C.I.O. candidates did not lead the field, but its mayoralty candidate, Patrick H. O'Brien, former Democratic Attorney-General of the state, beat John W.
Smith, present head of the city council who was endorsed by the American Federation of Labor.
Richard W. Reading, present city clerk, was high man in the field of five for the mayoralty nomination and will contest with O'Brien in the November 12 election.

Reading holds a withdrawal card from the Typographical Union.

Pattullo Coming Home Next Week

OTTAWA (CP)—Premier Pat-tullo of British Columbia, who arrived here Monday by air from Seattle, said today he expected to leave Friday for home. He still has several matters under discussion with Dominion Government members. Among them, it is believed, is that of rehabilitation of British Columbia's unemployed or their transfer to points at which work would be available for them.

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)— President Roosevelt strongly indicated today he would call a special session of Congress to convene between November 8 and 16. He will reserve decision until after conferences in Washington this week.

School Salary Study Shortly

Trustees to Meet in Near Future to Consider New Scale For Teachers

Study of a new salary scale for city school teachers will be started in the near future by the school board, it was learned today.

The teachers themselves will be given an opportunity to send representatives to meet the board before a decision on the question is reached. The scale will not come into effect this year, but is expected to be ready for 1938.

Last night committees of the board met and were enjoined to enforce the strictest possible economy in school activity for the remainder of the year. All expenditure will be watched closely to avoid any over expenditure.
The budget this year was trimmed to a minimum by the trustees in their efforts to meet the requests of the City Council in reducing expenditure.

No major work is contemplated by the building and grounds committee, which will conduct only the necessary repairs required for the operation of schools for the remainder of the year.

Court Allows Slight Cuts

Aggregate reductions of $1,000 on three parcels of land and of $480 on two structures, were allowed by the court of revision on the assessment roll during its sitting in the City Hall this morning. After hearing seven of 39 appeals listed, the court adjournd to continue sessions at 10 tomorrow morning.

Mining Appeal Continues Here

Hearing of the May et al. vs.
Daybreak Mining Company appeal continued today before the Court of Appeal here with various features in the case which covers mining claims and transfers being outlined.

The appeal is taken from the judgment of Mr. Justice D. A.
McDonald in the Supreme Court.
David K. May and his wife are main appellants in the case which concerns claims and transactions between the Daybreak Mining Company and the Gibson Mining Company.

POPPI DRIVE IS UNDER WAY

The "Remember the Veteran," the "Poppy" campaign which is conducted by the Victoria Remembrance Day Committee, is now being started. Headquarters are this year located at 1321 Government Street, where two windows have been appropriately decorated with wreaths and poppies and the slogan, "Remember the Veteran."

The offices are now open for business, but the campaign will not hit its full stride for a week or two. John Waterston has again been appointed manager of the campaign headquarters, where poppies and wreaths may be obtained from now until November 11.

Saturday, November 6, will be Poppy Day.

The usual big shipment of poppies, which are made by local ex-servicemen in the Red Cross Workshops, Johnson Street, will be transported to the schools this year, where the children donate generously to the cause. The Remembrance Day Committee is hoping for enthusiastic support from the public.

CHANGES SEEN IN RADIOLOGY

New Trends Outlined to Graduate Nurses By Dr. B. R. Mooney

Advances made in recent years in radiology and X-ray treatment were outlined to members of the Victoria Graduate Nurses' Association at the Jubilee Hospital yesterday afternoon by Dr. B. R. Mooney, radiologist at St. Joseph's Hospital.

In particular the speaker referred to the change in procedure in cancer treatment and in diagnosis by means of the X-ray.

He traced the changing trend of thought brought about by Professors Regaud and Coutard of the Sorbonne, Paris, in the application of radium and the X-ray, noting the French school had won support for the theory that radiation should be applied in small doses daily over a long period of time rather than in one big dose, as suggested by the German school.

By the French method the effects of radiation sickness were avoided.

The tendency to higher voltage was becoming more firmly established, he said. He remarked that discovery of pitchblende deposits in the Great Bear Lake region had reduced the price of the costly substance and made it available in large quantities to hospitals.

The use of high voltage X-ray and larger amounts of radium along lines popularized by the French had changed the treatment of cancer, the doctor said.

Other diseases responded well to the treatment, but cancer was the main objective, he added.

Mrs. H. G. Bothwell, president of the association, occupied the chair.

BASKETBALL SITUATION

To the Sports Editor:—At the request of athletes registered with the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada as B.C. Member of the International Relations Committee of the A.A.U. of C. I have taken up the matter regarding the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association withdrawing its articles of alliance with the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada and the effect of same on international competition and wish to report to the athletes as follows:

1. That the withdrawal of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association's articles of alliance with the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada has been recognized by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States and that the secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union has notified all its branches.

2. All athletes playing basketball in the United States will be notified by their A.A.U. secretary that if they are going to play basketball in Canada or in the United States that they must first inquire if the athletes of Canada are members of the A.A.U. of C. or otherwise they will be unable to play against them, as no international permit will be issued to them.

3. Any basketball team in Canada wishing to invite a basketball team from the United States must send such invitation through the A.A.U. of C. to the A.A.U. of the United States or otherwise no international permit will be issued by the A.A.U. of the United States.

4. In reply to the paragraph of Geo. Bonner's letter appearing in your paper with regard to his remarks that the C.A.B.A. did not mind if a member held an A.A.U. registration card as well as a C.A.B.A. registration card: no athlete playing under the C.A.B.A. as now constituted can hold a registration card of the A.A.U. of C.

5. Any team or club affiliated with the A.A.U. of C. cannot play against any team affiliated with the C.A.B.A. as it is now constituted, nor can any team or club affiliated play any games on the same programme as teams from the C.A.B.A.

In closing, I might say that I have received word from the secretary of the Pacific Northwest Association of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States that he is unable to issue international permits for American teams to play against teams of the C.A.B.A.

OAK BAY THEATRE

Director Gregory La Cava "did his stuff" and upset the old theory about "Jack of all trades, master of none." His early experience as an artist and a cartoonist served him in good stead while he was producing Universal's "My Man Godfrey," starring William Powell and Carole Lombard, now at the Oak Bay Theatre.

In Gripping Picture at the Capitol

Gary Cooper and Frances Dee in a scene from "Souls at Sea," which is now at the Capitol Theatre.

CAPITOL SHOWS

"SOULS AT SEA"

Powerful Drama of the Sea, With Gary Cooper, Opens in Town Today

A trial of a sea captain which electrified the world 90 years ago is powerfully and brilliantly brought back to life in the epic motion picture, "Souls at Sea," which opened at the Capitol Theatre today.

Played by an excellent cast headed by Gary Cooper, George Raft, and Frances Dee, "Souls at Sea" is the story of "Nugget" Taylor, an ex-slave trader, played by Cooper, who happened to be returning from England to the United States on the brigantine William Brown. In mid-Atlantic, the William Brown's master, played by Harry Carey, was killed and shortly after the vessel caught fire. Because of his rank, Taylor took command of the vessel.

George Raft, as "Powdah," hard-boiled pal of Captain Taylor, is little less than superb in his performance. So are all the rest of the splendid cast.

"Souls at Sea" was directed by Henry Hathaway, famed among other things, for his "Lives of a Bengal Lancer." The story was rewritten from actual court reports by Grover Jones, well-known writer of sea stories, and is blessed with some excellent music, prepared by Bernard Kaun, noted composer, and the celebrated music team of Robin and Rainer.

Where to Go Tonight

(As Advertised)

ATLAS—"Woman Chases Man," starring Joel McCrea.

CAPITOL—Gary Cooper and Frances Dee in "Souls at Sea."

COLUMBIA—"The Gorgeous Hussy," with Joan Crawford.

DOMINION—Pat O'Brien and Joan Blondell in "Back in Circulation."

OAK BAY—William Powell in "My Man Godfrey."

PLAZA—"Things to Come," starring Raymond Massey.

"Devil's Playground"

Will Open Tomorrow

With Richard Dix, Dolores Del Rio and Chester Morris sharing the starring roles, Columbia's "Devil's Playground," a dynamic comedy-drama based on the exploits of the brave lads in the United States submarine fleet, will open its local run at the Plaza Theatre tomorrow.

Revolving about the unusual triangle of two navy officers, once inseparable, who part over the friendship of a voluptuous siren interested in neither of them, "Devil's Playground" turns its attention in a sensational climax to a spectacular crash between a huge, derelict ocean liner and a fully manned submarine.

Musical comedy graduates are numerous in the cast of "Murder Goes to College," the comedy with a mystery twist which will be the second feature. They include Lynne Overman, who began his stage career as a minstrel and graduated to musicals on Broadway; Roscoe Karns, who took a fling at the same type of entertainment in New York.

"Topper" Booked

By Atlas Theatre

"Topper," which comes to the Atlas Theatre Friday, has been hilariously received by packed audiences as one of the top comedies of the season.

Based on the superb whimsy of the screen play, adapted from Thorne Smith's sensational novel, "Topper," the brilliant talent of the principals provided uproarious fun and fast-moving action from the opening scene until the final fade-out.

Constance Bennett and Cary Grant are presented as delightfully gay, but rollicking madcap ghosts who involve Roland Young in astounding adventures.

LEFTISTS ON LABOR BOARD

Sir S. Cripps and Prof. H. Laski Elected to British Party's Executive

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng. (CP)—Sir Stafford Cripps and Professor Harold Laski, Leaders of the Labor Party's left wing, today were elected to the national executive committee as representatives of the constituency Labor parties.

Under a resolution adopted by the Labor Party conference Monday, constituency representation on the executive was raised from five to seven members, thus increasing the total membership of the executive from 23 to 25. Trades union representation remained unchanged at 18.

Forty-five candidates were nominated for the seven constituency places, and in addition to Sir Stafford and Prof. Laski, the successful candidates were: Rt. Hon. Herbert Morrison, who headed the poll; George Dallas, Hugh Dalton, Philip Noel Baker and D. N. Pritt, K.C.

Sir Stafford is the "enfant terrible" of the party, and heads the dissident Socialist League, which has campaigned for a United Front which would bring Communists within the Labor fold. Tuesday he made a vigorous speech supporting the United Front idea, but after the party conference twice had voted overwhelmingly against such action, Sir Stafford announced he would for the present abstain from advocating it.

PROGRAMME OUTLINED

After the election of officers today, the conference proceeded unanimously to approve Labor's immediate programme, which states its goal is a Socialist commonwealth, peace, maintenance of democracy, nationalization of the Bank of England, appointment of a national investment board to control investments, large schemes of public development, no return to the gold standard, control of transport services, coal mines and electric power, and nationalization of land while retaining individual ownership of homes.

Election Officer In Toronto Is Arrested

TORONTO (CP)—Michael Conroy, deputy returning officer, Toronto Brancardale advance poll, in the Ontario general election, was arrested today charged with fraudulently taking ballots. Ira A. Humphries, chief election officer, said his information was Conroy had left his polling station and was on the street with 350 ballot papers in his pocket, offering them for sale. The charge against Conroy was of taking ballot papers from a box in a polling booth.

Farm Pioneer At Vancouver Dies

VANCOUVER (CP)—A funeral service will be held here Thursday for the late Joseph G. Brooks. A pioneer Vancouver business man, he died here Monday.

Mr. Brooks operated the Greybrook Farm at Pitt Meadows, and was known as the largest importer of Ayrshire cattle in British Columbia.

He is survived by the widow, one nephew, Robert Brooks, and a niece, Mrs. Armistead of Vancouver.

Large Gain in Silver Output

The production of silver in Canada this year is more than 16 per cent greater than last year, according to Bureau of Statistics figures. Up to the end of July output was 11,937,190 ounces, as compared with 10,297,633 last year for the corresponding period. July production was 2,767,983 ounces against 1,956,422 ounces in June and 1,811,959 ounces in July, 1936. Production of zinc for the seven months is up from 192,645,893 pounds to 208,201,730 pounds and lead from 213,115,950 to 231,270,104 pounds.

Chefoo to Lose its Breakwater

CHEFOO, China (AP)—The United States destroyer squadron No. 5 moved out of Chefoo harbor today in response to a Chinese warning the breakwater protecting this Shantung province port would be destroyed.

The Chinese warning led to the belief a Japanese invasion through Chefoo was expected. Blowing up of the breakwater would expose the harbor to the heavy north China seas and make troop landings virtually impossible.

Stocks Stage Late Rally On Wall St.

After Early Losses

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rebounded after an early deep loss today and climbed irregularly for net gains of fractions to two or more points.

Initial trading saw U.S. Steel and other leaders knocked down at the start. London security prices were weak and word from the steel industry gloomy. Subsequent rising prices they attributed to improvement in London markets and advances in commodities, some of which had fallen into new low ground.

U.S. Steel and other pivotal issues rallied smartly at mid-afternoon, but at times failed to develop staying power. Other steels later moved ahead.

Financial circles, noting the erratic swings, particularly in steels, said this was symptomatic of Wall Street's inability to make up its mind on the course of fall business trends.

Fresh emphasis on the effects of higher costs on rail earnings was typical of the various depressants which sapped the market's energy in some groups. F. E. Williamson, president of New York Central Railroad, said in Boston railroad buying has been restricted.

Transactions approximated 1,800,000 shares.

Futures Erratic On Winnipeg List

Wheat futures were erratic, moving both below and above previous closing levels on the Winnipeg grain exchange today. Final prices were 1 1/2 to 2 cents higher, October $1.28 1/2, November $1.28 1/2, December $1.24 1/2 and May $1.24 1/2 to $1.24 1/2.

Futures lost more than a cent in early trading. But late strength at Chicago caused rallies.

Premiums on cash wheat above the October futures continued firm, with only an odd-lot business reported at prices 1 1/2 and 2 cents premium for Nos. 1 and 2 northern grades. Durums traded at unchanged levels.

Liverpool closed 3/4 down. Buenos Aires at noon was one cent higher to one cent lower.

Coarse grains trade was dull. Prices generally showed little change.

Eagle Myths and Facts

Where do the winds come from? The Norsemen of old Europe had a strange answer for that question. They declared that the winds were made by a storm-giant in the form of an eagle. The storm-giant was said to take his place "at the edge of heaven" and to "blow blasts of wind over all the people."

American Bald Eagle

The Norse story does not give the truth about the cause of winds, but it is one of many cases where myths mention eagle-shaped heavenly beings. The ancient Greeks said that the great god Zeus sometimes took the form of an eagle.

In Greek myths, we also find that an eagle is supposed to have helped Zeus win a war against giant-like beings called Titans. We are told that an eagle "carried thunderbolts in his claws and gave them to Zeus." Using the thunderbolts as weapons, Zeus was able to defeat the Titans.

Aside from olden myths, we know that men in early times looked on eagles as kings among the birds. Roman soldiers carried bronze and silver images of eagles on long poles when they went into battle.

In North America, there are two great eagle families—bald eagles and golden eagles. The bald eagle was chosen as an emblem of the United States government. It is not really bald, but there are white feathers on the head and neck of full-grown birds, and this may make them seem "bald" at a distance.

Bald eagles like fish, but do not go to the trouble of catching them. Sometimes they feed on dead fish washed ashore by the waves. They also wait in the air while fishhawks swoop down and seize fish. When a hawk rises with a fish, an eagle is likely to fly near and make the hawk give up its prey.

Golden eagles are so named because of the yellow-brown feathers about their heads and necks. These feathers glow in the sunlight with a golden hue.

Except in Nova Scotia and Maine, golden eagles are not often seen east of the Mississippi. They are fairly common in the Rocky Mountain region. During the breeding season, they are seen as far north as Alaska.

Golden eagles are flesh-eaters. They often swoop to the ground and capture a rabbit or lamb. They also prey upon geese and turkeys. Tests seem to have proved that a golden eagle cannot lift a weight of more than seven or eight pounds.

What to Do With Adolescent Girls?

Janice Are Big Problems to Parents

ONE OF THE PROBLEMS that is turning fathers and mothers grey before their time is what to do about their 12 and 13-year-old daughters who are boy-crazy and think they are in love; who want to have dates every night, go out to parties and automobile rides and enjoy all the privileges of grown-up young ladies.

Of course, the adolescent girl has always been a headache to her parents, but heretofore the agony has not come on too soon. Mother had a brief respite between the time she ceased walking Janie with the colic at night and the time she began lying awake at night wondering where Janie was and picturing her mangled form lying under a wrecked automobile on the way to some roadhouse, but now that blessed season of rest and peace is gone.

There are no more little girls. The young female of the species is either a baby or a flapper. She cuts her teeth on a movie magazine. She learns to read pursuing the amorous adventures of cinema stars. Her one burning desire is not to be good or great, but glamorous. Her ambition is to be a supervamp and lead a life of hectic adventure that is surrounded by sable coats and pearl necklaces and things.

The little girl of 11 or 12 who wore her hair in braids down her back, who played with dolls and "lady-come-to-see," is as extinct as the dodo. In her place we have the young miss who cries for a latch key instead of lollypops; who paints herself up like an infantile Jezebel; who demands a black velvet evening dress; who loudly asserts she is perfectly capable of taking care of herself and who does not hesitate to let her mother and father know that she regards their opinion as something musty and fusty that has been brought down from the hair trunk in the attic.

There are millions of bewildered and heart-sick fathers and mothers who are looking into the faces of the young rebels who have suddenly sprung up in their homes and wondering what to do about it and how they can save these headstrong little innocents from wrecking their lives by their folly. For Mother and Father know how faulty is a child's judgment; how weak young shoulders are, how unfitted to bear the burdens of life and how easily a young girl's feet stray into the path from which there is no returning. And, above all, they know how idle is the boast of sophistication of one who has only seen the world from her nursery window.

But here is Janie still a child in years, in mind, in body, clamoring for freedom and the right to do as she pleases. Resenting parental restraint. Wanting all the emotions and experiences of womanhood before her time and before she has the wisdom and poise to deal with them safely. Playing with love and sex as a child plays with fire. And regarding Father and Mother as tyrants if they try to control her or safeguard her.

It's easy enough to say that Janie's parents should turn her across their knees, give her a spanking, send her to bed without her supper and tell her to forget all about the boy friend and going out in Johnnie's automobile, and make her realize that there will be time enough for her to go to parties and have good times when she is five or six years older.

But the strong-arm method of ruling youngsters doesn't work in these days of emancipated children. To lock Janie in her room would only mean that she would climb out of the window. To forbid the boy friend to come to the house would just send her out to meet him on the street corner. Nor does anyone know any formula for making a love-sick schoolgirl think of her lessons instead of some curly-headed lad who is the temporary object of her affections. Neither has any scientist discovered how to put an old head on young shoulders. As for convincing any girl or boy that it is worth sacrificing present pleasure for future gains, it can't be done. They want what they want when they want it.

So there the parents are who have to deal with this problem of the 12 or 13-year-old girl who is still an ignorant, blundering, helpless little child, but who thinks she is a woman of the world and demands her privileges, and how to solve it no one can tell them. One can only say to be very gentle with them. Drive with a light rein and use the diplomacy of Machiavelli himself in dealing with them. And with luck you will get Janie safely past the dangerous age.

Used Ship's Plank As Operating Table

Doctor of Icebreaker McLean, After Busy Arctic Experience, Heads For Tropics

By WILLIAM STEWART
Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC (CP)—A couple of seasons in the Arctic have left Dr. Fernand Lizotte ready to swap his mittens and long underwear for tropical whites and sign up on a ship heading for the West Indies.

And that's just what the 33-year-old physician on the Canadian Government icebreaker N.B. McLean has done. He'll soon be off to the south, where you can get something better than a piece of board for an operating table, and where the ice doesn't force you to do your diagnosing and prescribing by wireless.

Those were a couple of the snags the doctor from Levis, Que., ran up against this summer while the McLean was patrolling the far-northern shipping route to Churchill, Man. As the icebreaker lay here at the end of his second trip north, Dr. Lizotte told of treating a blood-poisoning case by wireless; removing an appendix aboard ship with the help of two of the crew, and treating an Eskimo cancer case.

RADIO TREATMENT

He told the staff of a wireless post at Cape Hope's advance, in Hudson Strait, how to dress their cook's blood-poisoned foot, while the McLean lay more than 200 miles away. It might have been too late when the vessel reached there.

Another O'Grady of Canso, N.S., another cook, became ill aboard the ice-breaker while being transferred from Resolution Island to Nottingham Island.

Dr. Lizotte decided immediate removal of the man's appendix was necessary. With Jerry Jeffrey, third officer, and Earl Josey, a steward, as his assistants, the physician performed a successful operation.

"We didn't have hospital equipment," he said, "but a piece of board made a good operating table, and I used by own instruments."

That operation was Dr. Lizotte's second "up in that cold country." Last year he performed the first surgical work in Hudson Strait's history when he removed Gabriel Bihan's appendix. Bihan was a member of the crew of a Dreyfus Line ship.

Around the Docks

Fleet of Carriers Expected This Month to Load Lumber for Offshore Ports; Nollington Court to Return Here Under New U.K. Charter; C.P.R. Announces Changes in Coastwise Services.

Leading a fleet of freighters which will call at Victoria this month to pick up parcels of lumber, Norwegian Ms. Eli, which on Monday night radioed her position as 400 miles from Estevan Point, is due here.

The Eli will proceed direct to Vancouver from William Head to load lumber and general for West Hartlepool and Newcastle, and will return here toward the middle of the month to load at Ogden Point docks.

Another Norwegian motorship due here about October 15, is the Ravans, scheduled to load lumber for the United Kingdom, her ports of delivery being Liverpool and Manchester.

Several other ships will berth at Ogden Point during the month, including the King Arthur, about October 9; Sonnaud, October 18, and Trellisick, October 19.

King Brothers are the local agents for these vessels.

TO RETURN HERE

After discharging 275 tons of general cargo at Ogden Point docks, where she docked at 3:50 yesterday afternoon from Montreal via Panama, Ss. Nollington Court, sailed at 11 last night for Vancouver.

She came out from eastern Canada in the service of Vancouver-St. Lawrence Line, but after completing discharge at Vancouver she will commence loading wheat and lumber at British Columbia and Puget Sound ports under charter to Anglo-Canadian Shipping Co. Limited for Liverpool.

Nollington Court is expected back here to load lumber at Ogden Point about October 15 or 16.

FISCUS COMING

Ss. Fiscus, a British vessel of 4,815 registered tons, will be the next vessel to arrive here under charter to the Vancouver-St. Lawrence Line from eastern Canada ports.

She is expected to arrive here October 21 or 22.

C.P.R. COAST BOATS

Completing overhaul in the Esquimalt drydock, Ss. Princess Adelaide left here at 10 this morning, deadheading to Vancouver, from where she will sail tonight on regular schedule for Prince Rupert and way ports. Ss. Princess Mary, which recently came out of drydock after cleaning and painting, will resume the Gulf Islands service from Vancouver at 9 tomorrow morning, it was announced at the offices of the B.C. Coast Service today.

Ss. Princess Norah, which has been relieving the Princess Mary, will start the winter run to Alaska, October 23, taking the place of Ss. Princess Louise, which will then be laid up.

Before entering the Alaska service the Princess Norah will be drydocked at Esquimalt for overhaul.

GRANT TO SAIL

On her outward voyage to Yokohama and Manila, Ss. President Grant, of American Mail Line, will sail from this port on Saturday evening.

Among the passengers boarding the Grant here will be George P. Peebles, who is making a world tour.

He will leave the Grant at Manila and after cruising the Philippine Islands on Ss. Mayon, will sail by Ss. President Adams via Suez Canal to Palestine, later taking Ss. President Harrison to New York.

AGENT ON HOLIDAY

Harry Douglas, general agent for the Great Northern Railway, accompanied by Mrs. Douglas, left the city yesterday afternoon on a vacation which will take him back to his old home in Hamilton, Ont. He will visit Saskatoon and Toronto, returning here in two weeks via Chicago.

During Mr. Douglas's absence, William G. Harold, his assistant, is in charge of the Victoria office.

TO LOAD FRUIT

Blue Star reefer ship Gothic Star, which passed through quarantine here yesterday and proceeded to New Westminster, will load a large consignment of B.C. fruit and general for the United

ST. ROCH BACK FROM ARCTIC

Skipper Larsen Sees Two-year-old Daughter For First Time

By JOHN DAUPHINEE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

VANCOUVER — Sergt. H. A. Larsen, skipper of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police patrol auxiliary ship St. Roch, yesterday stepped ashore here to meet his two-year-old daughter for the first time.

Baby Larsen was born a few months after the St. Roch sailed for the north 27 months ago. But Baby Larsen seemed little interested in the father she had never seen. Instead, she turned her attentions to the husky dog he brought her from the Arctic.

"It was just a routine trip—little out of the ordinary," the skipper told interviewers after greeting his wife and child.

First ashore when the sturdy motor vessel docked was Const. L. F. Willan, first officer. He was followed to the dock by the other nine aboard—all of the members of the R.C.M.P.

RESCUED CREW

Highlight of the trip, which began June 25, 1935, from Vancouver, was the rescue last August of the crew of the Hudson's Bay Company ship Fort James. The Fort James sank in ice floes of Dauphin and Union Strait, between Victoria Island and the Northwest Territories.

"We were within 75 feet of the Fort James when she went down," said Sergt. J. U. Eddy, officer commanding the floating detachment when she is not under way. "The day before, we had pumped nine barrels of fuel oil aboard her from our hold."

Sergt. Eddy said the St. Roch was built especially for service in the north, and her hull was shaped to protect her from being crushed in floe ice.

While the Fort James sank, the St. Roch lifted on the ice, being shifted by the most violent storm in the years.

"The crew of the Hudson's Bay boat just walked across the ice onto ours," Sergt. Eddy said.

Besides enforcing the law in the vast territory bordering the Arctic Ocean, the St. Roch's crew also represents the federal Department of the Interior and is responsible for administration of the northland affairs.

Last summer, the St. Roch reached Queen Maud Gulf, east of Victoria Island, but was forced to return to Cambridge Bay, on the island's southern border, when winter set in.

THROUGH ARCTIC

Sergt. Eddy said the crew hoped in the near future to complete a voyage through the Arctic Ocean from Vancouver to the Atlantic seaboard.

"It can be done," he commented. The St. Roch will remain in Vancouver until next June, when she will sail north for another two years. In the meantime she will receive a complete overhaul.

Trying On Hat As Shell Burst

Mrs. A. H. McMillan of Vancouver Had Terrifying Experience in Shanghai Store

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Disembarking from the Norwegian motorship Bonneville here yesterday after a flight from war-torn China with her two small daughters, Mrs. A. H. McMillan of Vancouver, B.C., confessed modestly that "we got pretty good at dodging shrapnel."

"I was in a Shanghai store trying on a new hat when a shell burst about three blocks up the street," she related.

"When we ran outside, a piece of shell was lying two feet from our car. At the same time, Chinese and Japanese aviators were fighting overhead."

Mrs. McMillan and her daughters, Grace and Helen, left Mr. McMillan in Hongkong. He will not return to Shanghai, Mrs. McMillan said.

CRIPPLED BY PAINS IN THE LEGS

Physical Instructor Loses Use of Limbs

If rheumatism is crippling your limbs, and making life miserable for you, read how this man obtained relief from the same trouble.

"I am a swimming and physical instructor. Early this year I had violent, stabbing pains in my legs from the hips to the big toe. In the mornings, I could not walk for three or four hours. Massage oil, pills, etc., did me no good. Someone begged me to take Kruschen Salts. In despair I got a bottle. After I had taken three parts of the contents, I was as fit as ever, except for a little stiffness of the joints, while in general health I was far better. Kruschen has put me on my feet again."—H.L.S.

Rheumatic aches and pains are often caused by the accumulation of too much uric acid in the system. Keep down the excess of uric acid, and it stands to reason you'll get glorious relief. That is just what Kruschen Salts does—brings quick relief from the cutting, stabbing pains of rheumatism, because it actually rids your blood of excess uric acid.
